

Neighbouring Institutes Entertained By Stirling Women's Institute

River Valley, Chatterton and Pine Grove Are Guests
— Interesting Addresses

A social as well as an educational meeting was held in the Stirling Community Hall on Wednesday evening of this week when the Stirling Women's Institute entertained three neighbouring institutes. A splendid representation was present from each branch.

President, Mrs. S. McMurray, and Secretary, Mrs. E. Foster, jointly carried out the opening exercises. Community singing was enjoyed with song leader, Mrs. H. Rodgers and Mrs. Floyd McInnis filling in at the piano. Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave an outstanding reading of a real to life description of a farm home and its surroundings. Mrs. Floyd McInnis entertained the audience with a well presented piano solo.

Guest Speakers

The speakers for the evening were two well experienced ones. Mr. A. O. Dalrymple, Agricultural Representative for Hastings County, and Mr. Don Bell, Fieldman for Soil Conservation. Mr. Dalrymple was introduced by Mrs. L. Rodgers, and as usual put across a most interesting talk. Being a busy man, the speaker said he attended some 160 meetings last year. He always finds time to assist the Women's Institute members and enjoyed giving what assistance he could.

Speaking of 4-H Clubs, which have for their motto: Head, Heart, Hand and Health, symbolizing the 4-leaf clover, the speaker said that 4-H Clubs are for boys and girls within the ages of 12 to 20 years, taking part in boys and girls clubs pertaining to projects in and around the home. He remarked that Hastings County was very fortunate in getting Miss Faye Irvine, B. Hsc., as the Home Economist. He asked that the women of the Institute as well as Club Leaders, give her a friendly welcome.

Mr. Dalrymple stated in being a member of a 4-H Club, it teaches to keep books, learn to be a loser and personal responsibility. "To learn to do by doing" is their motto.

Several slides were shown, some of prize stock of the 4-H Club members' exhibits. Others were boat trips the youngsters had taken through the Thousand Islands, potato crops, grain fields, etc.

Mr. Dalrymple also introduced the second speaker or the evening, Mr. Don Bell, Fieldman for Soil Conservation, who showed and explained different phases of his work.

A film was shown of York County in Penn., U.S.A., with the working of soil conservation. This film was most educational, although much more time was needed to do justice to the subject. Mr. Bell stated that the subject of conservation was so important that the Department of Education was putting it on school programmes. The learning and doing of educational things builds a healthy mind as well as a healthy attitude toward life in general.

Mrs. H. Rodgers most graciously

Over One Hundred and Fifty Attend Reception For Bride And Groom

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L.
Hulin Presented with Studio
Couch And Other Gifts

About one hundred and fifty relatives, friends and neighbours, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conley, Old Marmora Road, on Friday evening for a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hulin, who were recently married.

Mr. Geo. Carlisle acted as chairman for a programme, which opened with community singing led by Mr. Jack Bush, with Mrs. Philip Conley at the piano. Miss Fairlie Warren contributed a solo and readings were given by Mrs. Russell Pyear, Mrs. Fred McDonald, Mrs. Roy Tucker, Mrs. Percy Utman and Mrs. Roy Bush.

The bride and groom were given seats of honour and Mrs. Geo. Carlisle read an appropriate address. The presentation of a studio couch was made by Messrs. Harold Hagerman and Claude Tucker. Mr. and Mrs. Hulin also received numerous other gifts and very graciously voiced their thanks to the donors.

Charivari Gang

The charivari gang arrived and gave the young couple a noisy reception. Members of Stirling Citizens' Band, of which the groom is a valued member, also serenaded the couple.

The Rosebush Orchestra, Messrs. Norman and Ernest Rosebush and Mrs. Philip Conley, rendered a number of selections after which refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Following is the address read by Mrs. Carlisle:

Dear Bob and Helen:

We, your neighbours, relatives and friends, have gathered here this evening to honour you Bob and your bride on such an auspicious occasion.

We know of no one who more justly deserves congratulations than you young people. We take a friend's delight in your happiness.

We congratulate you Bob on your choice of a bride and life partner.

Helen we are very happy that you are the chosen bride of such a noble young man.

We were pleased when we heard of two happy hearts being made one. We wish you much joy. You have our earnest congratulations and good wishes for a long and serenely happy married life. May each succeeding year find you happier than the one before.

It is the sincerest wish of everyone gathered here that you may have many years of blissful wedded life and that you may live to allow your friends to celebrate many anniversaries with you.

May God bless you both and surround you with his choicest gifts.

At this time we would ask you to accept this gift as a small token of the esteem in which you are held in this community. We are very pleased that you are going to live near enough for us to enjoy its comforts too.

May you both be reminded of your many neighbours, relatives and friends as you find time for a few minutes of relaxation on it.

Signed on behalf of all who helped to make this gift possible.

New Ore Body Found At Croft Near Bancroft

Exploratory drilling at the Croft Uranium property, Paudash lake, near Bancroft, has revealed a brand new ore body 3,500 feet south of the main zone which is now being developed from the newly-completed shaft below the adit sill (tunnel opening).

Four holes have cut the new structure for a length of 500 feet; it is still open. Assays run as high as 30 per cent U3O8 and grade and width look about the same as the main zone. Ton-nages are shaping up to 800,000 tons to a depth of 500 feet.

CITY UNDER THE ICE

Miriam Newman, in the role of young newspaper woman named Cora, got herself into a peck of trouble when she showed away on a space ship and ended up in the grip of some "mole men" in a strange city beneath the antarctic ice. Attempting to rescue her here are her space-ship colleagues Majors Will Brant and Arch Porter (played by Arthur Hartling and Clive Scheffer). But the three of them will get a surprise when they see "The Black Mask" (Clyde Douglas) waving a business-like revolver in their ears. It's all part of the fun on the current radio series "City under the Ice" which is being produced every Wednesday at CBC's Halifax studios and relayed by the Trans-Canada network.

Napanee Requests Govt. To Take Over Land

An appeal went out last week for the Ontario Department of Planning and Development to take over the 10 acres which the town of Napanee owns on the Belleville road for a land assembly scheme.

It has been the practice of the Department and Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to establish land assembly at other points in the province.

Ordinarily, the scheme starts from scratch in that the corporation and the Department purchase the land direct from the owners. This will not be necessary because the town already holds title to the plot of land in question.

Honoured With Generous Purse

The spacious home and lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Will Snarr, Hoards, was filled to capacity Friday evening when relatives and friends from Rawdon and Seymour townships gathered to spend a social evening with the new-lweds.

Mr. Charles Hoard was master of ceremonies and Mrs. Frank Potts led the assembly singing. Mrs. Will Jeffs sang with guitar accompaniment; Miss Marion Twigg contributed a piano solo, and Mrs. Carman Gunning read a humorous selection.

Mr. Kenneth Parr read an address of appreciation to the bridegroom and good wishes and a welcome to the bride.

Mr. Water Anderson presented Mr. and Mrs. Snarr with a generous purse, for which the recipients graciously replied, thanking their friends for kindness and gift and inviting each one to visit them in their home.

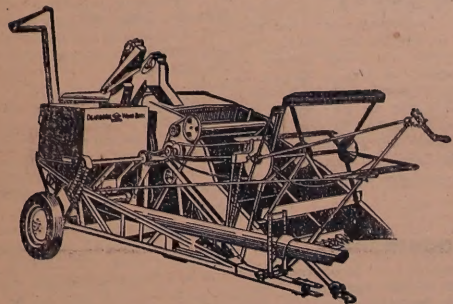

Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Must Prove Ownership of Contents If Safety Deposit Box Shared

Have you looked at the contents of your safety deposit box lately? If you hold the box jointly with your wife or another member of your family, trust company officials suggest that the ownership of the various items in the box be clearly marked. That's the best way to avoid legal complications in the event of the death of one of the joint owners of the box.

In Ontario, the law requires that a safety deposit box be sealed upon the death of the person, or one of the persons, to whom its contents belong. It can only be re-opened in the presence of a representative of the provincial Succession Duties department and a representative of the deceased's estate.

If the box was jointly held, the onus is on the survivor to prove ownership of the contents which belong to him. In the case of securities registered in the owner's name, there's no problem. But bearer bonds and other, less easily identifiable securities should be in an envelope bearing the name of their owner. Better still, say the trust companies, rent separate boxes instead of sharing one.

Even where separate boxes are used the Provincial Government has the right to seal any boxes rented by surviving members of the deceased's family, and to require an affidavit as to the ownership of the boxes' contents. But it is up to the Government to locate such boxes; the trust companies or banks are not required to draw the Government's attention to such boxes.

Normally, it takes about a week to 10 days for the provincial authorities to complete formalities and release the box and its contents. But while a question regarding ownership is unresolved, the box, with its contents — remains sealed. In the vault of one Toronto trust company is a safety deposit box which has been sealed for the past six months.

VACATION FEATURE

Water is just about the greatest attraction in hot weather, whether in a glass or in a lake or river. But the water in the river or lake, despite its apparent purity may be polluted and, therefore, should never be used for drinking unless it has been properly filtered or boiled. Children should never be permitted to bathe in water which is suspected of pollution.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE SUTHERLAND

The funeral of George Sutherland, College Street W., was held Wednesday, July 28th, from the Pinkston Funeral Home to Bethel Hall. Mr. William E. Belch conducted the service.

Bearers were Embury Hough, Jack Best, Arthur Reid, Peter Murray, Garfield Evans and Douglas Ashley.

Interment took place in Belleville cemetery.

Care, Courtesy And Common Sense

The three "c's" — care, courtesy, and common sense on the part of both drivers and pedestrians will reduce the death toll on the streets and highways of Ontario.

Urging motorists and pedestrians alike to exercise extra watchfulness this coming week end, W. B. G. Reynolds, the League's General Manager, stresses the fact that roads leading to and from every resort area in the Province will be jammed with vacationists.

"Time spent on planning your trip is never wasted", says Mr. Reynolds. "Be sure you can reach your destination and return without excessive speed. Speed that is too fast for road or traffic conditions still appears too often on reports as the cause of traffic accidents", he points out. "Another important cause of summer highway fatalities is fatigue. Reflexes slow down even if a car doesn't. Accidents can definitely be prevented if motorists take precautions to overcome fatigue," he adds.

1. Get a good night's sleep before you start.
2. Get an early start before traffic is heavy.
3. Stop for a rest and stretch your legs occasionally.
4. Cut your usual speed by ten miles an hour.
5. Be especially careful when passing other cars.
6. Keep a clear stopping distance between you and the car ahead.
7. Keep an eye on the cars behind in your rear-view mirror.
8. Signal for turns well before turning — and avoid abrupt stops.
9. Pay attention to all road signs and posted speed limits.
10. Don't drink before driving.

Land Use Tour Arranged By Junior Farmers

Representative Junior Farmers of Ontario will again have an opportunity of viewing the application of proper land use on various Ontario farms, T. R. Hilliard, Associate Director of Extension, Ontario Department of Agriculture announced.

Instituted last year the three-day soil conservation and land use tour was an unqualified success. Delegates representing each county and district visited many Ontario farms under the guidance of officials of the Department of Agriculture and the Ontario Agricultural College. During the course of last year's tour a set of coloured slides and commentary was prepared and made available to the delegates for showing in their home county and district. Some 2,000 people thus received the benefit of the information gathered by the delegates.

As was the case last year each county and district is being asked to nominate one Junior Farmer to participate in the tour.

Dates for the tour have been set for August 31st, September 1st and 2nd. The delegates will assemble at the Ontario Agricultural College on the evening of August 30th. The following morning they will leave by buses and will spend three days in the counties of Middlesex, Kent and Elgin. In addition to visiting several farms they will inspect the site of Western Ontario Cash Crop Day at the Ontario Hospital, St. Thomas.

Presentation of information on the tour will be under the direction of Prof. N. R. Richards, Head of the Soils Department, Ontario Agricultural College. Crop and livestock production, as they relate to soil management will be discussed by specialists in the field.

ONTARIO BIRTHS 12,000 IN JUNE

Almost 12,000 births were reported in Ontario in June, R. B. Wallace, deputy registrar general announced. In June last year there were 11,722 births, 240 less than this year.

Deaths dropped to 4,995 from 5,494 in June last year and marriages also dropped to 3,921 from 4,000. Still births increased to 181 from 174. Mr. Wallace said that 1,491 deaths in June were due to heart disease. Other causes included: Cancer, 617; vascular lesions affecting central nervous systems, 502 and there were 322 violent accidental deaths.

WHAT OTHERS SAY! TEXTILES BEAR THE BRUNT

(Renfrew Mercury) The fears expressed by the Canadian textile industry that it would bear the brunt of increased Japanese competition once a trade treaty with Japan had been signed appear to be justified by the present trend of Japanese economy.

It may be true, as the Japanese and Canadian protagonists of the treaty point out, that Japan is anxious to diversify her production and export a wide variety of consumer goods. But Japan has urgent need of foreign currency, particularly dollars, right now. She may have plans to produce and sell important quantities of heavy metal goods, chemicals, and other non-textile products and novelties but at the moment her rebuilt, very efficient and low-cost textile industry is her most important dollar-earning economic unit.

The Canadian market is a prime target for the Japanese textile exporter. Other Asiatic countries, like India, which might have been expected to take substantial quantities of Japanese textiles have built their own textile industries since the Second World War and in many cases have exportable surpluses. The United States appears to be taking the view that the build-up of Japanese export trade is a wonderful thing so long as the Japanese stay out of their domestic market.

This leaves Canada as about the only nation where the Japanese can exchange textiles for dollars with relative freedom. In 1953 about 20 per cent of Japanese exports to Canada were textiles in one form or another. In 1954 the percentage is expected to be much higher and the already hard-pressed Canadian textile industry will undoubtedly suffer further losses and be forced to make further cuts in production and employment.

"DEAF MUTE" RACKET LATEST FRAUD ANGLE

(Acton Free Press)

Another racket is reported circulating in this district. This time persons pretending as deaf mutes call around at doors and present cards which claim their incapacity and request donations.

Investigating officers of the Oakville-Trafalgar Chamber of Commerce have learned from the Canadian Association for the Deaf that it does not approve of this practice even when carried on by persons actually handicapped.

In recent years there's been a rush of rackets by glib salesmen or fast-talking agents.

Lately some towns have been unwilling hosts to blatant salesmen who claim aluminum is injurious to the health and attempt to pawn off on householders steel pots and pans of low grade and high price. There is absolutely no authoritative evidence to support the claim.

Itinerant roof repair men, who contract with the home owner for a price then either do a sloppy, unsatisfactory job or no job at all, are another sort of this nefarious breed of swindlers who have taken advantage of home owners in this part of Western Ontario recently.

Earlier this year police have warned of a fraud gang travelling about as bank or income tax inspectors, asking to see bank pass books and requesting sample signatures. Signatures ended up on concealed blank cheques, then the coniving "inspectors" hiked off to their victim's bank to cash the cheque for as much as the account would stand.

UP THE HAYSEEDS!

(Carleton Place Canadian)

Norwegian psychologist Vidkun Jarl really started something when he told the International Psychology Conference at Montreal that rural dwellers have lower brain power than their city cousins.

Farmers' spokesmen throughout Canada have risen in protest. "Our children get a higher proportion of university scholarships", they say. "The cream of the city's business men and industrialists are usually country born and bred."

Dr. Jarl's premise is based on a survey of Norwegian rural I.Q. It may be that farm folk in Norway have more placid dispositions. Possibly life in the picturesque Scandinavian countryside is slower and less heavily mechanized. Do tillers of the northern soil plod behind cow-bellied herds, becoming richer in philosophy but slow on the up-take?

Life on a modern Canadian farm is certainly no place for the backward boy. Today's agriculturist requires a thorough knowledge of natural growth allied with chemistry, mechanics, accountancy, salesmanship and a few dozen minor skills. He is faced occasionally with the algebraic problem of assessing whether his crop is likely to make a profit or loss.

Comedians are fond of lampooning the "hayseed" but the joke often backfires.

There is the story of the smart city man whose car bogged down while he was driving along a side road to visit a farmer, client. He criticized the farmer for not erecting a warning sign. "But I suppose the people round here can't read," he sneered.

"Oh, they can read, mister," said the farmer. "They know where the swamp is, too."

But however far the town and country controversy goes — and it may never be resolved while city people move to the farms and villagers to the cities — one striking fact remains:

Psychiatrists normally establish their consulting rooms in city centres.

Parents Jailed

In police court at Trenton, on Tuesday, Magistrate T. Y. Wille sent a Trenton couple to the County jail at Belleville for neglecting their three children.

The mother, Keitha Wellman, received three months, while her husband, Nelson, drew a month.

Their three small children have been made wards of the Children's Aid Society.

Rylstone

Crowe River
Sunday Concert

On Sunday, August 1st, another large crowd attended the open-air concert at Crowe River Bridge Picnic Grounds, sponsored by Rylstone Women's Institute.

The concert began with the theme song, "The Church In The Wildwood." Owing to the absence of the President, Mrs. Carl Linn, 1st Vice President welcomed the audience. The programme was in charge of the Convener for Social Activities, Mrs. Don Kerr, who early in the programme handed it over to George Nicholls, of Campbellford, who arranged the following programme: "My Jesus I Love Thee," by the made quartet, consisting of Messrs. Ron Barnum, Ronald Pierce, Dick Koning and Peter Edwards and as an encore, "Have I Done My Best For Jesus?" cornet solo, "All Through The Night," by Peter Edwards, encore "Now Is The Hour," mixed quartet, "Now I Belong To Jesus," Mrs. Tom Wallace, Miss Anne Nicholls and Messrs. Dick Koning and Peter Edwards, encore, "My Task," community singing, led by Carleton Rowe. Geo. Nicholls accompanied all these vocal numbers on his accordion, including the community and group singing.

Several selections by members of Sentinel Kiltie Band were enjoyed. Band members were Messrs. Harold and Bob Spencer with bagpipes, and Ernest Irwin on the base drum; vocal duet by Miss Anne Nicholls and Mrs. Tom Wallace, "Have I Done My Best For Jesus?" encore, "Drifting," vocal solo, "Golway Bay," by Don Baldwin, encore, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," accompanied by Mr. George Nicholls. Group singing was directed by Mrs. Ernest Irwin, Juniors, "When He Cometh," Intermediates, "Down by the Old Mill Stream," Seniors, "Old Kentucky Home."

The Kiltie Band played a few more numbers and George Nicholls led the crowd in the singing of God Save the Queen. Another good programme is expected for next Sunday, August 8th, so come and bring your friends.

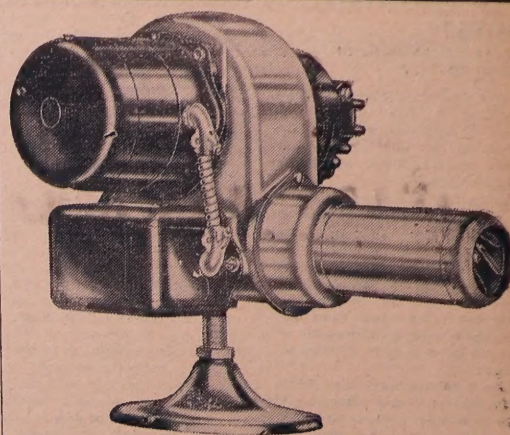

Mr. and Mrs. Don Holbert and girls, of Moira, were Sunday visitors of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKeown.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spencer returned home on Saturday from a trip to St. Thomas and Detroit.

Fire Destroys Barn Near Frankford

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the large barn on the property of Max Houlton, farmer, residing one mile east of Frankford on the Frankford-Foxboro Highway on Tuesday night.

Also destroyed was a large quantity of hay. A cow in the barn was brought to safety.

The fire is the second for the Houlton family. Three years ago flames swept through a barn causing heavy damage.

The blaze was noticed shortly after 10.30 p.m. by Harry Lott, a neighbour of the Houltons. Mr. Houlton was in his house at the time and was unaware of the fire until Lott put in a general alarm.

The fire is believed to have started in a hay loft. The loss was not estimated.

West Huntingdon Club Meets

A most enjoyable meeting of the Sew and Chatter Club of West Huntingdon United Church was held Wednesday at the home of Mary Sills. Lorena Ashley presided. Lois Cooke and Sondra Chambers each contributed a piano solo. Mary Sills gave a humorous reading.

Many lovely articles were handed in for the coming bazaar in October. A play is also being planned for the winter.

Lorena Ashley conducted three contests which caused much merriment. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

TIMBER MANAGEMENT IN TWEED DISTRICT

Three Timber Management Units have been set up in the Tweed District. The 7,672 square miles in the district have been divided more or less equally into the Moira, Madawaska and York Units.

The Moira Unit extends from Coe Hill on the west to Marinar Lake on the east and from Gilmour in the south to Bancroft on the north. The Madawaska Unit extends east to west from White Lake to Denbigh and north to south from Eganville to Northbrook. The York Units occupy the territory from Quadville to Maynooth and from Lake St. Peter to Bancroft.

These units have been set up so that the Division of Timber Management of the Department of Lands and Forests can improve forestry practices and produce more and better quality forest products. This is the initial step in a long range programme in forestry in the Tweed district.

FISH AND WILDLIFE

It is an accepted fact that angling is uncertain during July. Every locality provides its own definite reason and, of course, the proof is that the month just past is the worst, but none of us wish to remember that we made the same comment last year.

Along the St. Lawrence and Lake Ontario, guides find it difficult some days to secure fish for the shore diner. Their answer to this "Is that the bass, pike and pickerel have followed the Shad, (alewife), to their spawning areas where there are easy pickings and they are not interested in any other kind of food".

Many solutions to this problem may be available along the Rideau system also, one of these is to the effect that "game fish schools scattered after the spawning periods. There is plenty of proof of this because a day's catch is taken over a wide area, and only one or two at each anchorage".

In the smaller inland waters it is because, "the minnows are easily secured in the shallows and the adult game fish will only school again when the warming sun forces these forage fish to cooler depths".

But there is the added consolation that real good fishing begins about the middle of August. We have been assured of this by experienced anglers and guides, and strangely to relate we've discovered this to be true.

At this particular time, we are unable to provide the exact solution for this annual depression, but if anyone has the exact answer up his sleeve, guides and resort keepers would be very grateful to be supplied with the information. This would be most acceptable in gilt or red letters on a nice white card and bearing the signature of the technical advisor in the lower right hand corner. It is alleged that modern civilization is responsible for increasing heart ailments, but if you have a good friend who is a resort keeper don't ask him why there are more bad fishing days in July than at any other time. It would be better to introduce this subject later in the season, "when all the guests are throwing them back". You might even include your opinion on this precarious subject, but in the vernacular, "it had better be good."

Officers report that for some unknown reason, there seems to have been a spring migration of deer from the north to the south and although no crop damage is reported, many of the animals are frequently observed in the vicinity of tilled lands.

Regardless of the present drought, beaver are able to maintain more than an adequate water supply and officers find it necessary to destroy dams which are adjacent to farm lands.

Bear seem to be quite plentiful and many people report seeing them out close to settlements. Russell Gunter, of Ormsby, killed one Saturday evening within shooting distance of his home.

The distribution of small mouth bass was begun the first of the week from the White Lake Hatchery. No. 3 and 4 ponds were emptied and forty-six plantings made during the week. The bass are about two inches in length and there seems a very good number in the ponds.

The Department of Public Works is making good progress with the new buildings at the Hatchery.

FOREST PROTECTION

Two small campers' fires in the Deere Division occurred during the week, apparently caused by the unextinguished lunch fires. One was at Marinar Lake in Abinger Township and the other at Malcolm Lake in the Township of Clarendon. Only a fraction of an area was burned by each fire, thanks to quick and efficient suppression on the part of the ranging staff.

The weather still continues hot and dry with the fire hazard rating in the medium to high range. If we do not get a good rain shortly, we expect more dangerous conditions this week. All those who travel in forested areas are asked to take every possible precaution to see that they do not drop burning smokign material or leave a camp fire unextinguished.

Weed of The Week

HAVENS FROM HAY FEVER

Department of Health officials estimate that 10% of the residents of Ontario suffer from some allergy. A few of the more common allergies are from feathers, wool, grass-pollens, certain flowers, Goldenrod and Ragweed. Eighty per cent of Hay Fever sufferers are allergic to Ragweed pollen.

Usually from late August to the first frost, pollen build up in the air is sufficient in Ragweed areas to cause severe nasal irritation. Consequently, residents in Southern Ontario who are allergic to Ragweed pollen put in rather a distressing time. Many Hay Fever sufferers try to take vacations at this time at some location where they can get relief.

Surveys conducted by officials of the Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, reveal isolated outbreaks of Ragweed in Northern Ontario but determined efforts are being made to keep them under control. Most of the resort areas of Muskoka and Parry Sound, many parts of Haliburton and North are quite safe. This is particularly true of resort areas somewhat removed from farm land and back from railways and highways or are isolated by areas of bush.

Fortunately most sections of the vast resort areas of Northern Ontario are safe havens from Hay Fever.

CONTROL OF ROTS BY VOLATILE FUNGISTATS

Recent research developments in the application of chlorinated hydrocarbons to the preservation of foodstuffs, suggest that these materials may have practical application in the control of wastage in small fruits, reports P. A. Poapst and W. R. Phillips, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, revealed that the shelf life of strawberries, for instance, could be increased by 50 per cent or more where fungal wastage was the limiting factor. In the past, much work had been done with more standard type materials, particular soluble salts. Though many of these proved to be effective, the end analysis usually showed impracticalities, such as increased handling charges or doubtful toxicological safety margins. Both perchloroethylene and trichloroethylene have been used in tests on strawberries. It was found that perchloroethylene at a concentration of one unit volume to 20,000 unit volumes of air, reduced mould count on strawberries by 10 per cent when measured 6 days after treatment. The trichloroethylene was found to be equally effective and somewhat easier to apply.

Tests made at 75 degrees F. employing trichloroethylene as a control of brown rot on peaches, indicated that excellent control could be obtained for a four day period after treatment. After four days the effects tapered off. Presumably, in practice, arrangements could be made to treat the fruit on 72 or 96 hour cycles, thus preserving a long time beneficial effect. However, much work has to be done yet, such as working out cyclic treatments for various temperature products, and likely mould contaminants. Thorough investigation must be made of fruit tolerance to the chlorinated hydrocarbon, lest the cure becomes worse than the disease. It does seem though, that these materials marketed largely in the past as dry cleaning solvents, may erase some of the headaches of uncertainties in the traffic of small fresh fruits.

Railroaders Use Strange Terms

Mr. and Mrs. Average Canadian may not know it but one of the nation's top industries — railroading — has a language all its own.

A little digging into the vocabulary of Canadian Pacific Railway employees has revealed a few colloquialisms such as these:

"Tea Kettle" and "Hog", a steam powered locomotive.

"Gogger", engine driver.

"Growler", a diesel-powered locomotive.

"Fireboy", or "Tallow-Pot", a locomotive fireman.

"Doghouse", a caboose.

"Tissues", train orders.

And that isn't all. The familiar steam engine has a sex. They are generally referred to as a "she", and are considered temperamental, and have an "apron" or steel platform in the engine that the fireman stands on.

Diesel engines, however, are neuter. There are relatively few such female terms applied to the working parts of the diesel.

The terms — strictly unofficial — are the colourful byproducts of the railwayman's husky vocabulary. And they usually fit like a glove.

To the railwayman, a steam-powered yard engine is often called a "yard goat".

A master mechanic is jokingly referred to as a "master maniac".

And railway terminology in Canada differs somewhat from that of their American cohorts. In the U.S., a caboose is often called a "hack" or "brain box". Canadian railwaymen apply the more genteel name of "van" the same as that used in England.

Authorities say the slang terms started to creep into the Canadian railway business around 1880, some 20 years after the first steam-powered means of transport chugged over the steel rails.

"The use of diesels is taking a lot of colour out of the railwayman's language," said one railway historian.

"Steam engines were treated almost as individuals and were permitted human foibles. Diesels are too efficient for such nonsense," he said.

Indiscriminate Use of Gamma Globulin Is Unwise

There is imminent danger that optimism regarding the effectiveness of gamma globulin in preventing polio may result in a tragic curtailment of the material where and when it is most desperately needed this summer.

Dr. Nellie Silverthorne, chairman of the Child and Maternal Health Section of the Health League of Canada, said: "It is only fair in non-epidemic areas for all people to co-operate with our present plan of using gamma globulin (already in short supply) to protect possible close contacts in a very heavily infected area where an epidemic is causing severe crippling and death".

Actually the immunizing potentialities of gamma globulin have not yet been proven beyond question. "It is assumed," Dr. Silverthorne said, that gamma globulin protects at most for a short period; namely, one month.

It should not be believed it wise to keep giving children injections of gamma globulin every month when many of them will not become infected in any case. It would seem rather useless to give gamma globulin when a child leaves on his summer vacation to find that he developed paralytic poliomyelitis a month or two after the probable protective effects of the gamma globulin have worn off. In other words, indiscriminate use of gamma globulin in non-epidemic areas is not only selfish in view of the shortage but may also prove quite futile."

Gamma globulin is not to be confused with the anti-polio vaccine which is being tested this summer in the United States, and which, it is hoped, may provide long-term immunity.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

WINTER WHEAT VARIETIES

The average yields per acre of winter wheat in Ontario have shown a steady increase over the past quarter of a century, reports A. G. O. White, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. This may be attributed to many reasons which include better adapted varieties, better seed, better cultural and fertilizer practices and most of all the desire on the part of the farmer to obtain maximum yields.

Dawson's Golden Chaff was a standard for many years, and while it is still favoured by some farmers, it has given way largely to Cornell 595, Genesee and Rideau. Cornell 595 and Dawson are strong-strawed varieties, high in yield and generally well adapted for the main winter wheat areas. A new variety, Genesee, is being tried out on many farms this year. In tests conducted at several points in Ontario over the past three years it has outyielded Cornell 595 by better than a bushel per acre. It does not have quite as strong straw as Cornell 595 but would likely shatter less at harvest time. All three varieties are resistant to loose smut but are susceptible to bunt or stinking smut and to the rusts. Rideau is still a popular variety in the Ottawa Valley due to its extra winter hardiness, while a new variety, Richmond, developed by the Cereal Crops Division at Ottawa, will be tried out on several farms this fall. It is high in yield, has good winter hardiness and is resistant to the common bunt found in Ontario. Fairfield and Thorne are two soft red winter wheat varieties which are being grown by some farmers who favour red wheat varieties for their less tendency to sprout.

There is still considerable room for improvement in winter wheat varieties and while it is difficult to get into one variety all of the desirable characteristics, active breeding programs are under way at the Ontario Agricultural College and at the Central Experimental Farm. Varieties with stronger and shorter straw, with greater resistance to disease and with more winter hardiness and these characteristics coupled with high yield and high milling quality, are being sought. The new disease, dwarf rust, which is best controlled by resistant varieties offers a new challenge in winter wheat breeding for Ontario.

MECHANICAL DRYING OF GRAIN

The need for forced air drying of small grains and corn has increased owing to the changing farm practices of the past few years. The mechanical drying of grain allows harvesting to be done before the grain is dry enough for storage, and thus some shatter loss is avoided; harvesting may, in some cases, be carried on during relatively unfavourable weather; and early harvesting, which avoids high late weeds, is made possible.

The small grains and shelled corn may be stored when the moisture content is 13 per cent or lower; for soybeans the moisture content should be decreased to 11 per cent. The percentage of moisture may be determined by taking a sample to the nearest grain dealer.

Good design and selection of equipment are necessary if a drier is to operate satisfactorily. The basic parts of any forced air drier are the fan and motor, the drying bin, and the air distribution system. The fan must supply the amount of air required to dry the grain, and be able to force the air through the grain. The drier may be installed in the bin where the grain is to be stored permanently, or the grain may be dried in batches and then conveyed to storage bins. The air may be distributed by a variety of methods.

The agricultural representative is now able to supply detailed information on the mechanical drying of grain.

Predict Pork Surplus Prices May Drop

Canadians can hope for cheaper pork chops and we may be eating a little higher off the hog within the next few months.

This is because U.S. farmers have been producing pigs like crazy — they have 9,000,000 extra pigs coming on the market this year — and Canadian farmers, too, have been aiming for higher production.

So far Ontario farmers haven't suffered much by prices for top grades, but Eastern Canada marketings were off 11.3 per cent for the first half of 1954. This suggests that hogs are beginning to accumulate on farms and there can be a tremendous rash of rashers before long.

"U.S. production is estimated at 91,000,000 hogs and would indicate lower prices for the latter part of 1954," says a report this week by officials of the Ontario Hog Producers Association. "Some forecast the American market will drop to 22 to 26 cents a pound dressed weight. The effect this will have on our market will depend . . . upon surplus position in Canada."

The average Canadian ate 57 pounds of pork, down 8.9 pounds in a year. Hog producers are inviting folks to eat another four pounds each.

If per capita consumption were increased by four pounds it would result in an increased market in Canada for 60,000,000 pounds of pork," says the association.

The trouble in Ontario is that production is up and exports have dropped nearly 25 per cent. Feeding has been cheaper this year, average price was $35.08 a hundredweight — the best in years — and there has been no competition from American producers.

But as hogs mature in August there may be urgency to get them on the market. The Ontario group, which markets all southern Ontario hogs through United Livestock Sales Ltd., hopes to keep marketing on an orderly basis. The association opened its own sales offices in Montreal two months ago and plans to open a sales division at Kitchener, centre of Western Ontario production. There is some talk of government stockyard there.

WORLD CHAMPION 305 DAY PRODUCER FURTHER LENGTHENS HER LEAD

One of the great Holstein cows of the world is Norloch Colantha Kay, owned by Norloch Farm, Beachville, Ont. Already World Champion for lifetime production of both milk and fat in the 305 day division she has further lengthened her lead by the completion of another record which gives her a ten-lactation 305-day lifetime total of 177,949 lbs. milk containing 6631 lbs. fat. She thus is the first cow in the world to produce over 175,000 lbs. milk in the 305 day division.

During two of her lactations Kay was continued on test beyond the 305 day period to complete two 365 day records so that her actual lifetime total production is 181,663 lbs. milk containing 6,777 lbs. fat average test 3.73% butterfat. She thus qualifies for a Gold Seal Certificate of Long-time production presented by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

Adding still further to Kay's achievements is the fact that she was not on official test during her first two lactations so that her production during this time is not included in her lifetime total.

Kay freshened regularly every year from 1943 to 1954 all single births with the exception of her latest when she brought forth twins. She thus has had thirteen calves. Her latest record of 586 lbs. fat from 14,260 lbs. milk was made as a fourteen-year-old and she is again on test and promises to add materially to her lifetime total.

Kay has been classified as Excellent the highest attainable rating for conformation and has twice been the winner of a special class for 100,000 lbs. producers at the Oxford County Black and White Day held in connection with Woodstock Fair.

Two of Kay's sons are in use in the Artificial Breeding Unit of the Oxford and District Cattle Breeding Association. She is the dam of Norloch Kordyke Masterpiece the former World Champion Junior Four-year-old twice-a-day milking producer with 958 lbs. fat in 365 days.

Fire Protection On Farms

Fire is a necessary friend, but also a terrible enemy, as is shown by reports of farm fires in New Brunswick in 1953. The Provincial Fire Marshall reports 84 fires in farm buildings with a loss of $342,851, only $133,458 of which was covered by insurance. The total fire loss in rural areas of the province amounted to $1,781,793, or $5.28 per capita — rather a severe and unnecessary tax that does not require legislative action to repeal.

Among the 30 major fires in the province, eight were farm buildings with individual losses ranging from $20,500 to $81,500. The causes, where known, are listed as sparks from engine, electrical, sparks from flue, oil burning brooders and short circuits. Among other causes given for rural fires are lightning, grass fires, flues, smoking and matches petroleum products and rubbish accumulation.

In other words, a little precaution would prevent many farm fires and lack of adequate protection is one reason why the losses are so high. Fire losses in New Brunswick are no doubt representative of those in other provinces.

In listing the protective measures taken at Federal Experimental Stations in New Brunswick, S. A. Hilton, Superintendent at the Fredericton Stations points out that they could be applied to good purpose on farms and in rural areas elsewhere.

1. Regular inspection of buildings and premises to eliminate fire hazards such as defective wiring, accumulation of rubbish, oily waste, etc.

2. Provision of adequate water supply. This may be accomplished in rural areas, as it has been done at the Sub-Stations at MacDonald's Corner and Tower Hill, by the construction of farm ponds, either by dugouts or by damming brooks.

3. Organization of a fire brigade, equipped with a portable pumper and adequate hose lines, also ladder and pails kept in a central location.

4. Keep a power sprayer (200 gallons or more capacity) such as used for orchard or potato spraying, filled with water at all times and equipped with long hose and fog nozzles.

5. Maintain fire extinguishers and strapp pumps in all buildings. The types of extinguishers selected to be those best suited to control the type of fire most likely to occur.

6. See that all buildings are protected by lightning rods properly installed and grounded. In New Brunswick last year, 22 buildings were burned as a result of lightning. None of these was rodless.

7. Above all, Be Fire Cautious.

Hens Eggs Vital To Cancer Research

For centuries the hen has been one of man's best friends, supplying him with food, feathers and material for jokes about why she crosses the road. Now hens are providing their friendship in yet another way. They are assisting in the fight against cancer by providing a means of growing cancer tissue so that it will be available in a live, vigorous form when required by research workers.

At the University of Toronto Dr. Arthur Ham and his associates are using about $1,500 worth of eggs a year to keep tumor tissues alive. "In order to make certain studies of tumors," Dr. Ham points out, "We must have a constant supply of them. These that we grow in chick embryos are a pure, soft type of tumor and are most useful for research."

The process in which Dr. Margaret Armstrong has taken a leading part is rather a long and complicated one. First of all the tumors are produced in the livers of rats by feeding the animals a cancer-causing chemical that goes by the devastating name of 4-Dimethylaminoazobenzene (herein after known as 4-D). The rats are then closely observed and examined every day to see if they are developing tumors, and then operated on to remove the tumor. The tumor itself must be checked to make sure it is of sufficient grade or malignancy to thrive when transplanted.

When all this is done a batch of fertile eggs are incubated. These must be candled every day to make sure the embryo is developing. When the embryo is four days old the tumor tissue, which has been ground up and diluted with egg yolk, is put into a hypodermic needle and shot into the air sac of the egg.

This is a most delicate process because it must be done without killing the embryo. Every precaution is taken to ensure a sterile procedure in the same way as a surgical operation. The actual work of transplanting is done by technician, George Ross who manipulates the eggs in a sterile cabinet all times.

A careful record of the age of the egg and the type of tumor put into it is kept.

After transplanting, the tumor grows in the embryo sac. The egg must be carefully removed from the incubator each day and candled to make sure the chick is still alive.

On the 13th day a transplant is made (The tumor will kill the chick on the 14th day, but nobody knows yet exactly why this is so). George Ross carefully removes the chick embryo from the egg and with great dexterity removes the tumor tissue which appears as a slight ring of discoloration. This is a live, malignant tumor, as lethal as a dose of arsenic.

The tumor tissue is again diluted with egg yolk and put into the hypodermic. The amount from two eggs will supply enough to inoculate 20 more eggs with about four-tenths of a cubic centimetre each. Some tumors survive hundreds of transplants.

And so the process goes on. Each day dozens of eggs are candled and transfers made. This is the raw material for cancer research. The search that is leading the scientists into the secret of all growth — the secret of life itself. Why do these cells grow in this crazy uncontrolled manner? How are they different from ordinary cells? What chemicals do they use more of or less in their growth process? These are the one million and sixty-four dollar questions.

The search is long and difficult and it is very expensive. Fortunately the time and skills of the gifted researchers doing the job is given freely and the space provided by universities or hospitals. But the equipment — the eggs and machines and hundreds of test tubes and other laboratory materials — along with the technical assistants to use this equipment and keep it in order — all this must be provided if the work is to continue. It is provided by money donated to the Canadian Cancer Society during their campaign. We may not all be scientists but we can all get into the cancer fight by supporting scientists in their work.

Steel Wastes Being Used For Blocks, Roads, Glass

The grey 50 foot hills at the eastern end of Hamilton Bay spell the birth of a new industry for Canada. The waste products of the steel industry will be turned into new materials for building roads and some glass.

National Slag Ltd. is staking the million-dollar gamble. Already some 200 trucks a day are loading the fine grey material for transport to the manufacturing plants, chiefly at present for building materials.

The process involves "expansion" of the slag by forcing steam-air and water under pressure into the hot slag as it comes out of the blast furnace.

All of present production is going into the manufacture by others of concrete blocks known as light weight slag blocks.

It's claimed these slag blocks — are about 20 pounds lighter than standard 60 pound concrete blocks; — have an improved texture which is light grey and smoother;

— because of the cellular construction of the expanded slag, the blocks provide excellent insulation, sound absorbency and waterproof qualities; — unlike concrete blocks, nails can be driven into them without causing cracking and without using a lead plug.

Another new plant will crush and screen air-cooled hard slag from the blast furnaces to provide the raw materials for other construction industries and products.

Gravel-like instead of cellular, the hard slag will provide the road base for highway construction, replacing the now hard-to-get cinders. It will also provide the aggregate for bituminous and cement concrete.

It can be heated in a cupola and blown by steam jets into fine fibres to make rock wool insulation. It will be used for making common amber and green glass as used in beverage bottles. And when refined it will replace to some extent the high-silica-bearing rock to make clear flint glass for tableware and window glass.

Tractor Impounded

Ten days in jail and the impounding of his tractor for three months was the sentence imposed by Magistrate A. F. Cook at Stratford on a farmer who pleaded guilty to intoxication while driving the machine on a street of the city. Robert Quipp, 49, made an unsuccessful plea that his son be allowed to use the tractor on the farm. "It's not the tractor's fault that I'm here," he said. This case presented an element of novelty in the run of "impaired" convictions.

and Mrs. Leslie Finkle led in prayer; reading, "God's Garden and Mine," by Elaine Lindenfield; trio, "Praise Him, Praise Him," by Carol Lindenfield, Gwenda Detlor and Linda Finkle; reading, "One Lovely Rule," by Patsy Corrigan. Mrs. Allyn Finkle told the members two stories, "Peter and his Great Grandmother" and "Mansa" an African girl and her white teacher. Mrs. Finkle closed with the verse, Proverbs 20th Chapter, 11th verse, "Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right" and prayer.

A reading, "At Bedtime," was given by Raymond Finkle. After the singing of the hymn, "God Sees the Little Sparrow Fall," Mrs. Harold Detlor closed the meeting with the benediction.

Entered Into Rest

RICHARD SPRY

Former miner and retired farmer. Richard Spry, Marmora, Ont., passed away in Belleville on Monday, August 2nd. He was in his 80th year.

Mr. Spry was born in Rawdon Township, a son of the late Richard Spry and Harriett Maria Neal. A miner in his earlier years, he later became a farmer and remained so until his retirement.

He was a member of the United Church.

Mr. Spry was married twice. His first wife was the late Sarah Mumby and his second wife, the late Margaret Bailey.

Surviving are one daughter and a son by his first wife, Mrs. Alex Reid, Springfield, and Fred Spry, of Marmora; two daughters and two sons by his second wife, Mrs. John Preflick and Mrs. Bernard Stewart, both of Cordova Mines and William and Richard Spry, of Cobourg and Peterboro, respectively. Also one stepson, Clifford Briggs, of Cordova Mines.

WM. JAMES PRESTON

A highly esteemed resident of Rawdon Township, William James Preston died at his late residence, 5th Concession of Rawdon, on Monday morning. He had been in failing health for the past eight months and was in his 84th year.

The deceased was born in Rawdon Township, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Preston. He lived in Carmen, Manitoba, for a number of years prior to returning to his native township 45 years ago. He was a farmer and was living in retirement at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, the former Sarah Ann Courtney; three daughters, Mrs. Reginald (Anne) Nichols, Meeker, California; Misses Jean and Isobel Preston, both of Peterborough; and three sons, Harry, of Crookston; Jack, of Roslin, and Elwood, Harold.

Also surviving him are 15 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Jennie Jeffrey, Halloway; Mrs. H. M. Courtney, of Actinolite; Mrs. Fred Nichols, of Rangely, California; Miss Mary Preston, of Harold; two brothers, Edward, of Harold, and John, of Trenton.

The deceased was a member of St.

Rawdon Township; Tanner L.O.L. No. 509 and Wellman's Black Preceptory No. 747.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Wednesday at 2 p.m. to St. Thomas Anglican Church, 8th line of Rawdon Township, for service by Rev. John Brownlie at 2:30 p.m. Members of Tanner L.O.L. No. 509 attended in a body and conducted the last rites of the Order at the graveside. Interment St. Thomas Cemetery.

Select Committee Takes Large Look

Part way through its very broad investigation into traffic accident prevention, the Ontario Legislature's Select Committee for Highway Safety has already interviewed representatives of motor vehicle manufacturers, the Bar Association, police safety agencies, driving instructors, Motor Vehicle Branch officials, highway engineers, garage operators, Conference on Alcohol and Road Traffic and others.

The Committee has visited Motor Vehicle and Safety Bureau Administrators in several State capitals, traffic headquarters of New York City and the Safety Center of New York University.

To investigate accident prevention activities in Ontario communities, a number of Ontario towns and cities will be visited, including Brampton, Guelph, Kitchener, Stratford, London, Niagara Falls, St. Catharines, Hamilton, North Bay, Ottawa, Cornwall, Kingston, Belleville, Oshawa and others.

The Committee intends also to attend the National Safety Congress held each year in Chicago, during October.

Bright Future Predicted For Young Napanee Dancer

Two years ago petite 17-year-old Anne Huffman took her first ballet lesson in a hotel dining room in Napanee, Ont. Now she's dancing in Toronto Melody Fair's Summer productions.

And executive producer Leighton Brill has hailed her as a born comedian with a future.

In "Oklahoma!" she plays the role that carried Joan McCracken to Broadway prominence — the little girl who gets in everybody's way and keeps falling down in her attempts to imitate her elders.

Worked Hard

Anne's jump from dining room ballet classes to the professional stage is one part fate and two parts hard work. Last summer she studied at the National Ballet Summer School directed by Celia Franca. In her spare time she attended practically every Melody Fair show that season.

At home in Napanee she just got a taste of ballet from half-hour lessons every week with instructor Connie Wilson in her improvised hotel class-

Anne, a wide-eyed blonde who stands just five feet two inches in her dancing shoes, was by her own admission "a real rube" when she auditioned for the company this spring. She was horror struck because she didn't know half the steps called out by the choreographer.

"I was kind of amazed because lots of the steps I had never even seen before," she said. "I had to learn them from watching the other kids then put them together into combinations."

Her ingenuity and grace caught producer Brill's eye and she was signed as the company's first apprentice dancer. This means as well as dancing small parts herself she must understand all female dancing roles.

Melody Fair, a Summer stock musical troupe feeds out productions at the breakneck assembly line rate of one a week. In its fourth season the Fair is the largest theatre "in the round" in North America. Up until this season it staged productions in a large arena tent but this year moved to closed quarters.

Unaffected Youngster

So far Anne has appeared in two shows. "Pal Joey" and "Oklahoma!" Although she is hitting the big time she is still an unaffected small-town girl. At home she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huffman, a 19-year-old brother and 11-year-old sister. She is in fourth form high school.

Her insurance-salesman father is solidly behind a dancing career on one condition — that she finish school before taking it up seriously.

Endowed with business acumen as well as dance know-how, Anne keeps dancing teacher Wilson's books straight and types her correspondence when she is home in the winter. A former Girl Guide, she is also high school drum majorette and teaches the art to novice twirlers each fall.

Plans For Improvement of Streets Discussed By Village Council

Grant of $125.00 Made To Fair Board—Band Stand to Be Left On Present Site

The grading, ditching and graveling of Church, Charlotte and Anns Streets will be carried out this fall, according to a decision reached by Village Council at its monthly meeting on Monday, August 9th. The work will be under the supervision of the Street Committee, with Councillor Harry Philip as chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Reeve R. K. West and Councillors E. G. Bailey, G. Bradshaw, C. A. Wells and H. Philip were in attendance.

Boiler Condemned

A letter was tabled from Mr. West, Inspector of boilers, condemning the boiler in the Community Hall. Council decided to have the boiler dismantled and seek expert advice on having it repaired.

A request from Constable S. Eggleston for a new uniform was considered by Council and on motion of Councillors Wells and Bradshaw it was granted with the stipulation that the uniform be purchased from R. A. Patterson.

Reeve West informed Council that members of the Stirling Citizens' Band had expressed a desire that the Band Stand be left on its present site in Victoria Park. It was recalled that the Band Stand had been sold to Don Rodgers, local lumber merchant, when Council felt the use made of it didn't warrant repairing it, some months ago. It was moved by Councillor Bradshaw and seconded by Councillor Philip that Council concur in the request, providing the Band can purchase the stand from Mr. Rodgers and will keep it in a good state of repair, and that any further changes be at the discretion of Council.

A complaint from Fred McDonnell that a fire in the Village dump had spread over his adjoining pasture field was considered by Council but no action in the way of recompense for damage was considered necessary.

Fair Grant

In answer to a request from R. E. Fox, representing the Stirling Agricultural Society, Council made a grant of $125.00 for the annual Fair on motion of Councillors Philip and Bailey.

Reeve West informed Council that officials of the Chamber of Commerce had asked for Council's co-operation in holding a public meeting to discuss the installation of a sewerage system in the Village. On motion of Councillors Bradshaw and Philip it was agreed to co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in this matter, with the understanding that all arrangements for the same and all expense incurred be borne by the Chamber of Commerce and that Council provide the Community Hall or Theatre for holding a public meeting.

The following accounts were presented for payment:

R. E. Fox, $10.00; J. J. Turner Co., $6.78; F. R. Mallory, $21.30; A. B. Faulkner, $26.00; Sidney Mason, $18.00; Fred McCutcheon, $21.75; Roscoe Metal, $244.00; Public Utilities, $1.67; Donald Vardy, $13.50; Mark Tripp, $11.25; Harold Juby, $17.75; Stirling Welding, $3.30; Stirling Lumber, $8.80; H. C. Pitcher, $68.00; Jas. Parks, $59.20; News-Argus, $17.10; Bell Telephone, $7.10; Stirling Welding, $9.85; Public Utilities, $299.87; Hatton Hardware, $28.90; Stirling Lumber, $12.85; Harry Jones, $6.00; G. B. Faulkner, $39.45; X. P. Mayhew, $14.00; News-Argus, $22.00; Bell Telephone, $9.80; Whillier & Son, $29.55; McIntosh & Wells, $30.90; Paul Stewart, $48.00; Fred McCutcheon, $39.00; Wm. Bowen, $2.25; S. Eggleston, $15.00; Public Utilities, $287.82.

The next meeting of Council will be held on Monday, September 13th.

Entertain At Birthday Party

Mrs. Ross Hoard and Mrs. James Hoard entertained at a delightful birthday dinner party on Tuesday of this week in honour of Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. N. E. Eggleton. The guests included Mrs. Roy Thrasher, Mrs. Frank Jeffs and Mrs. Ed. McKeown.

LADIES TREBLES TOURNAMENT HERE

Eleven links competed in the Ladies Trebles tournament sponsored by the Stirling Lawn Bowling Club on the local greens on Wednesday, August 11th. Dr. E. A. Carleton had charge of the draw and keen bowling was enjoyed under ideal conditions.

Mrs. C. Mott's rink of Belleville, took the high honours of the day with three wins and a local rink, skippered by Miss Rosa Spry, won the second prize with two wins. Mrs. H. Scott, of Campbellford, won third prize, with one win and Mrs. Lockwood, of Brighton won the prize for no wins.

Floyd Bartlett Sells Grocery and Egg Grading Station

A business deal of interest was completed this week when Floyd Bartlett, local grocer, disposed of his grocery and egg-grading station to Frank Domenico, of Belleville. Mr. Bartlett has conducted his Mill Street business for the past eight and a half years and he and Mrs. Bartlett will continue to reside in the Village, moving to their property on the corner of Victoria and St. James Streets. The new owner will take possession the first of September.

"Open House" At Playground

Parents and Those Interested
Invited To Closing Ceremony Wed. Evening Next

Next Wednesday evening, August 25th, an invitation is extended by Mr. and Mrs. J. Irish to all the parents of children that attended the Rotary sponsored Recreation Playground during the past summer, and any other interested parties to attend "Open House" at the park on Church St.

Displays and Contests
There will be displays of arts and crafts constructed by the children during the summer. Contests will be held for the best decorated bicycles, tricycles, kiddy cars and doll carriages; a pet show; the marble championship, etc.

The evening will conclude with a band concert by Stirling Citizens' Band.

Owing to the shortness of the twilight hour the programme must start at 7:30 p.m. sharp. All are welcome to attend.

Attendance Down

The attendance has fallen off slightly as quite a few children are away.

The older children are making moccasins and double link belts.

On Friday, August 13th, the playground put on a display at the Y.M.C.A., which was sponsored by the Belleville Playgrounds.

Showers Held For Bride-To-Be

Last Wednesday evening, Mrs. Kenneth Cooke entertained 20 guests at her home with Mrs. James Cranston as co-hostess, in honor of Miss Marie Montgomery, bride-to-be.

A chair was decorated with bridal streamers and a canopy of balloons overhead filled with confetti which popped open at the appointed time.

The group played games and were awarded small prizes for their efforts.

Marie received a large array of miscellaneous gifts for her new home, and she graciously voiced thanks for party and gifts.

The hostesses served refreshments and a social half hour was enjoyed.

On Friday evening, Mrs. Ralph McCabe entertained about 30 people at her home in honour of Marie. The co-hostesses were Mrs. Ivan Eggleton and Mrs. Thomas MacConnell.

The rooms were decorated in crepe streamers and bells with Marie's name lettered on the entrance door to the McCabe home. A large umbrella filled with confetti made a canopy over the bridal chair.

Several contests were staged with prizes awarded to the winners.

The large array of kitchenware and useful household articles were hidden in various groups around the rooms and an alarm clock directed the bride-to-be to the hiding place at intervals during the evening. As Marie opened the large array of parcels, she was showered with confetti.

Dainty refreshments were served and a social half hour was enjoyed.

River Valley Women's Institute Holds Fine Children's Day Meeting

On Thursday, August 5th, approximately 25 members and visitors and 25 children gathered at River Valley School House on the Frankford Road, for the regular meeting of River Valley Women's Institute.

Mrs. Ross Bush presided with Miss Eleanor Bush as pianist. Mrs. J. L. Donohoe reported a bank balance of approximately $30 and read several letters of thanks for fruit boxes received. Some money raising scheme will have to be arranged in the near future to augment the funds. A letter was read from Miss Faye Irvine, R. H.Sc., newly appointed home economist re sponsoring a girls' club. The project will be, "What Shall I Wear?" and Mrs. George Heasman will be club leader if enough girls can be lined up for the project.

All the ladies were invited to attend Achievement Day, September 3rd in Stirling.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Percy Utman. Topic will be "Community Activities and Public Relations" under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Gerald Brooks and Mrs. Will Ashby.

Programme Presented

The programme was arranged by Misses Eleanor and Adeline Bush with the former presiding, Donnie Carr and Allan Carr each gave a recitation and Cheryl Utman sang a selection.

Mrs. George Heasman gave a concise and descriptive picture of her recent bus trip to Guelph. She vividly pictured the countryside, the flower town of Brampton, with its rows of gladioli, the short shopping tour in Guelph, and then the welcome at the agricultural grounds by Mrs. McPhattan, president of Ontario Institutes. The group viewed the many pictures of art in the library and the afternoon programme was in the Memorial Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidd delighted with music and Mr. Raymond was chairman. Miss Ethel Chapman gave an outstanding message on the theme "Poetry." Several trumpet solos and vocal selections interspersed the programme.

Sicilian Pictures

Anna P. Lewis showed interesting pictures of her recent trip to the island of Sicily. The poinsettias, native fruits, fern trees (which are now almost extinct), all were of interest. The trip home gave a good view of the Sunken Gardens, the Burlington Causeway and the industrial city of Hamilton.

Recitations were then given by Jean Donohoe and Bobby Hanna. Misses Helen and Margaret Morrow contributed a piano duet and Misses Edith De Jong and Louise Zuidema sang with Miss Jean Zuidema as piano accompanist. Miss Nancy Finkle gave a pianoforte solo and Miss Betty Hanna read a selection and Miss Marilyn Conley delighted with piano music.

Miss Grace Heasman sang unaccompanied, "Summer is the Time for Fun."

Miss Adeline Bush conducted a contest for all the public school children with five groups participating. All received a treat of confectionery.

"Measure For Measure"

Mrs. Chester Sills, West Huntingdon, gave a descriptive account of the recent Shakespearean play "Measure For Measure" at Stratford, which she attended. The theatre is held under canvas and seats 2,000 people each evening and the seats are all reserved weeks ahead. This is the second annual festival and is the dream of Tom Patterson, who felt because the town was called Stratford, and its river Avon, that it would be an ideal spot to hold a Shakespearean Festival. The Town has a population of over 19,000 and they are considering the idea of a permanent home.

Mrs. Sills described the stage which is built in two tiers like a wedding cake. Film star James Mason, is the main character in the play, and Tyrone Guthrie is a natural director, as is Cecil Clarke. The large audience is kept in rapt attention and with noise at a minimum all the voices (even though they are soft in some parts) can be heard distinctly. Mason came from Hollywood to participate in the Stratford plays. The speaker also spoke of the Canadian actors and their parts in "Measure For Measure."

Group pictures were then taken on the school house lawn after which the refreshment committee served sandwiches, cookies and freshie. Each person at the meeting received two chocolate bars as a souvenir of the meeting.

Mrs. S. McIntosh voiced a gracious thanks to the two speakers, to the children, to programme committee and the lunch committee.

The group spent a social half hour in the school room and the children enjoyed themselves with the swings and slides on the lawn.

Canada On The March

In the last 15 years Canada has pushed herself into the forefront of world affairs. A giant country with a pigmy economy before the war, Canada has seen what experts have called "the biggest business story of the decade." The growth has not been region but has spread from Kitimat to straits to any one province or region.

This year the Canadian National Exhibition, show window of the nation, will pay tribute to this phenomenal growth. One province will be featured on each of 10 days other than Opening Day, Warriors' Day, Labour Day and Children's Day. The Graphic Arts Building, next to the Administration Building in the heart of Exhibition Park, will change its face each day to pay tribute to another province.

Displays of interest from each of the provinces will be used, and complete information regarding the province in question will be provided. It is hoped that the men of industry, always conscious of expanding markets and development, and also the general public, interested in vacation news, will avail themselves of this service.

On the days when no particular province will be honoured, tribute will be paid to the whole of Canada from coast to coast. The EX hopes to give its visitors a better picture of the greatness of Canada and its potentialities.

Upon announcing the theme of "Canada on the March," General Manager Hiram E. McCallum said that the executive wanted to make this year a year in which the CNE and its public would recognize the part which thousands of persons scattered throughout Canada have played in making the Exhibition a success. Many of these people are the same ones who provided the drive to make Canada what it is today, and through this the CNE salutes the new Canada Canada on the March.

CPR Dayliner Makes Record Run In Test

A Canadian Pacific Railway diesel "Dayliner" ran from Peterborough on Wednesday, August 11th on a trial run. It covered the 77 miles in 81 minutes, knocking 45 minutes off the previous fastest time.

And it did not hit its top speed of 85 miles per hour, but maintained a steady cruising pace of 65.

The latest Dayliner will form an addition to the Detroit-Toronto Dayliner link, enabling passengers to travel from the U.S. city to Peterborough in less than six hours running time when the service is inaugurated September 26th.

Where Is Your Boy At Night?

"Just what does your boy do at night when he's away from home?" That's a question of interest to any parent — but when John D. Seater, Jr., editor of the Miami (Fla.) Silver Bell, gave some of the possible answers in an editorial, he aroused the whole community.

"Never have we written an editorial in recent times which aroused so much favorable comment," Mr. Seater told The American Press. "I have been complimented on it every week since it was published, by the judge of the superior court, law enforcement people, ministers, PTA's, and many, many of our residents."

Mr. Seater said that numerous people thought the editorial should get wider circulation than his 2,300 readers. So he sent it to The American Press with the comment: "I thought perhaps some of the rest of America's country editors might be interested in what this small weekly 'way out in the sticks' had to say about a problem that is national in scope."

The American Press is proud to print Mr. Seater's editorial: Parents Should Know

Where does your boy spend his time at night? As a parent, you should know.

Is he keeping good company, or is he well on his way to becoming a statistic that is our increasing juvenile delinquency figure?

Is he out in his own car — or in yours — driving like a mad fool endangering not only his own life, but those of other teenagers packed in the car and the lives of other motorists as well? Is he drag racing between Miami and Globe at speeds of 80 miles an hour or over? Or does he prefer getting out on the Apache Trail and whipping along at lunatic speeds by Bandy Heights? Is your boy one of a number of district youths who thinks the wide highway through Cutter is a drag racers dream where he can bag along beside another car full of youngsters at a crippling, mangling, killing speed?

If you don't know, or if you're not certain, then you'd better find out.

Or would you rather have the highway patrol call and ask you to identify the body of your youngster at a local mortuary?

Just what does your boy do at night when he's away from home?

Is he out learning the burglar's trade while manipulating a couple of steel pins to force a padlock to enter some district business establishment to steal merchandise?

Is he attempting to pry open some merchant's front door with a screwdriver or breaking glass in a skylight to gain illegal entry?

Perhaps you think not. But when the statement that comes from the lips of most parents whose youngsters are caught after committing such crimes is, "I can't understand why he'd do such a thing."

Is your boy among those who maliciously destroy property of others. Is he out ripping chrome off someone else's car or scratching the finish of a new car with a key or knife while it's parked in town?

If you don't know, you better find out.

Is your boy one of those hauled off the road late at night by the patrol disgustingly intoxicated from drinking a mixture of beer, wine and hard liquor and carrying an ice box full of beer in the back seat?

Not my boy, you say. Perhaps not. But talk to peace and judicial officers of the district. Find out how many of these things are going on and how often. You'll be amazed at the answers you get. But you should be more than amazed. You should be shocked... terrified; and you should take a closer look at the activities of your own youngsters.

It can't happen in YOUR family? Don't you bet on it.

Unless a lot of parents do a lot of thinking and take a lot of preventive action, it'll happen in a lot of families.

Laws aren't the answer. Law enforcement isn't the answer. Proper home life, home guidance and instruction of youngsters of all ages in the fundamental precepts of decent human behavior and good citizenship is our only hope.

As parents, we'd better get busy!

Rylstone W.A.

On Wednesday afternoon, August 12th, the Woman's Association of the Rylstone United Church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Spencer with eight ladies present.

President, Mrs. Ray Stewart, was in charge of the following programme: Hymn, "Pass Me Not, Oh Gentle Saviour," Psalm 69 read responsively; Scripture Reading, by Mrs. Ray Stewart; Roll call, answered by a verse of Scripture containing the word "Harvest," reading, "Day By Day," by Mrs. Lily Anderson; "Love," by Mrs. Ellis Jones; "Love and Psychology," by Mrs. Bob Spencer; Hymn, "Softly and Tenderly." The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chester Melkjohn. The roll call will be answered by a memorized verse from the Psalms. Convener for this meeting will be Mrs. E. Jones.

On August 23rd the W.A. will cater to the Community Sale at Hoard's. Home-made candy will be sold. A bazaar of home-made articles suitable for Christmas presents will be held at the October meeting.

Anniversary Services at Rylstone United Church will be held on September 12th.

Eggleton W.A. W.M.S. Enjoy Travelogue

Members of Eggleton W.M.S. and W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Bert Reide on Thursday afternoon last with 13 adults and several children present.

This was the annual W.A. meeting and the W.A. president, Mrs. William McMullen presided over the program, which she had prepared.

Date was discussed for a stork dinner for Mrs. Robert Danford and new baby son.

The September meeting will be held at the church on the evening of September 9th with Mrs. Nelson Stapley preparing the program and Mrs. Wm. McMullen and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett as lunch conveners.

Plans were also discussed on holding a bazaar the latter part of Sept. Travelogue Presented

A travelogue by Miss Gladys Clarke on her recent trip through the eastern provinces was much enjoyed. Miss Clarke described the beautiful scenery, various industries and also the historical places visited.

A piano solo "The Sweet Bye and Bye" with variations, was rendered by Miss Joanne Reide, and was greatly appreciated.

The president thanked Mrs. Reide for opening her home, and also expressed pleasure at having several visitors present, among whom was Mrs. R. Stapley, of Stirling, a former member and officer in the W.M.S. and W.A. at Eggleton.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Carl Bridges.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and candy were served by the hostess with her two daughters, Joanne and Sharon assisting with the serving.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Fish and Wildlife

Anglers report fishing considerably improved towards the end of the week. As an excuse that angling success was still too discouraging, three visitors invaded a local game fish sanctuary. Every preparation was made to avoid being apprehended, but unfortunately that date also. The catch had been non had decided to visit the area on placed in a burlap sack, and although released very quickly to the waters, along with all wishing tackle, it was not beyond recovery. The resulting court action would suggest that such experiments can prove not only humiliating but expensive also.

The Moose herd census has not been compiled for 1954, but according to trappers and hunters more have been observed this year. The first one known to make any attempt to entertain summer visitors, entered the waters of Mississagagon Lake in the vicinity of Russell Brown's resort, and gave a demonstration of swimming dexterity, with the minimum of efforts.

Everyone experiences the usual amount of exasperation with the word "Don't," (but anyone who fishes for only larger fish) particularly, pike and muskies, should during the excitement, endeavour to remember about the razor sharp teeth and gill-rakers. A pair of pliers is an excellent holding vice, but before placing them on the lower jaw, it is best to hold the body of the fish firmly with the blade of an ore or a dry burlap sack in the hands. Also if the fish is thrashing about in the bottom of the boat the hooks may break free and be transferred to yourself or your fishing partner. You may carry the conventional priest (fish club) but even after frequent application, there is the one final and unexpected convulsive struggle, just when your hand nears the hooks. This is the moment of catastrophe, it is then the jaws of the fish may lock over your hand, or have a finger slip under the gill cover into the rakers, or perhaps, the trophy may slip back into the water. The usual number of casualties have been reported, one so serious, a surgeon was required to remove triple hooks from a wrist and a holiday was spoiled.

Public Access To Lakes Assured

Long term planning for maximum use of the recreational resources within the District of Tweed takes into consideration the necessity for access to lakes for all persons.

The entire shoreline of some lakes has passed into private ownership in days gone by with the result that use of the lake is discouraged, however, reservations in lakes now being found attractive by the public provides for landing places, parking areas and public campsites where roads intersect lakeshores.

In addition to these areas the Department of Lands and Forests reserves such spots as creek and river entrances, sections of shorelines where roads will probably be built in future logging operations, an adequate number of public camping locations and occasionally large acreages and frontages for small parks.

At the present time a number of campsites have been improved and are in use at Papineau Lake, Lake St. Peter and Diamond Lake in the Bancroft Area; Marble Lake just east of Cloyne, and in five islands in Loughborough Lake near Battersea.

Present plans call for making other sites available for use by providing fireplaces, tables and other conveniences.

Fire Guttled

Barn Near Trenton

Fire damage estimated between $15,000 and $20,000 was caused early Sunday evening when flames gutted a barn loaded with hay on the farm of Jack Alyea, on York Road, near Trenton.

At the end of 1953 the Federal government had 40,000,000 pounds of butter stockpiled as a result of price-support operations.

In the telephone business, as around your own home, we find it's better to do the job right in the first place and then look after it. It's the best way we know to avoid heavy repair and replacement costs, to save expense and give you most service for your money.

That's why we treat telephone poles against rot; why we keep our trucks clean and in good repair; why we put up exchanges and offices to last.

It's common sense if we are to keep our costs down—and the price of your telephone service low.

STIRLING WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Canadians realize it isn't enough to make good homes for children. We must also strive to make a better world for them.

Birth

DANFORD — At the Sine Maternity Home, Harold, Ont., on Tuesday, August 10th, 1954, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Danford, Halloway, R.R. 2, a son.

MORTON — At Toronto Western Hospital, Private Patients' Pavilion, on Friday, August 6th, 1954, to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Morton, Stirling, a son, Douglas Ray.

MYERS — At Campbellford Hospital, on Tuesday, August 10th, 1954, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Myers, of Stirling, a daughter.

TROWE — At Belleville General Hospital, on Monday, August 16th, 1954, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trowe, of Stirling, a son.

In Memoriam

COTTEN — In fond and loving memory of my dear wife and mother Ida Frances Cotten, who passed away suddenly on August 11th, 1953.

I am lonesome here without you I miss you more each day Somehow life does not seem the same Since you were called away. My heart still aches with sadness, My eyes shed many a tear God alone knows how I miss you As ends this first sad year.

—Sadly missed and ever remembered by husband and family. 36-1p

RAY — In loving memory of Viola Ray, who passed away August 21st, 1953.

With tears we watched you sinking. We watched you pass away. We tendered you with loving care But could not make you stay.

We watched beside your bedside As the lonely hours passed And how our hearts were broken When we saw you breathe your last. You have left a beautiful memory And sorrow too great to be told But to us who have loved and lost you

Your memory will never grow old. —Lovingly remembered by Mother and Dad. Doreen and Marguerite. 36-1p

Principal To Attend Unique Course

Thomas E. Bedford, popular principal of Trenton's Queen Elizabeth School, Trenton, is participating in what is officially described as an "experiment in teacher education," according to the Trenton Courier-Advocate.

Mr. Bedford, who has been the head of the town's newest and most modern place of elementary learning since it was opened in the fall of 1952, is the only local pedagogue slated to attend a federation course in school administration and supervision at Queen's University in Kingston. It will last from August 16th to 27th.

He is one of 75 teachers from 42 centres throughout Ontario who have enrolled for this unique instructional training.

Arranged by the Ontario Public School Men Teacher's Federation, the course is designed to give principals and staff members aspiring to that position a comprehensive knowledge of administration procedure and supervisory practices.

Mr. Bedford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bedford, Stirling, and a graduate of Stirling High School.

KELLY — WELLMAN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Wellman was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Donna Isabel Mae, was united in marriage to William Russell Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelly, Foxboro.

Baskets of gladioli, snapdragons, bachelor buttons and fern, formed the floral background.

The Rev. W. R. Merrick officiated.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, the bride looked charming in a floor-length gown of white nylon net and lace over slipper satin with jacket of Chantilly lace which featured a Peter Pan collar ornamented with seed pearls and sequins. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught to a plicated pearl headdress, and she carried a cascade of pink roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Jean Woods, wore a floor-length gown of pink nylon net over taffeta, with matching headdress, and carried a nosegay of carnations, roses, and baby mums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Nora Wellman, sister of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Kelly, sister of the bridegroom, wore similar floor-length gowns of nylon net in shades of blue and yellow with matching headdresses.

They each carried nosegays similar to that of the maid of honor.

Little Miss Karen Reid acted as flower girl in a green taffeta floor-length frock with matching headdress.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. George McClean, of Foxboro.

The reception was held at the Carmel Church parlours, which were decorated with gladioli and asters. The bride's table was centred by a three-tier wedding cake.

Receiving the guests was the bride's mother, attired in navy taffeta; the bridegroom's mother assisted, wearing white figured nylon. Both wore corsages of red carnations.

Those who served were Misses Ruby and Bessie Broadworth, of Trenton, and Misses Marion and Helen Kelly, of Foxboro; also assisting were Mrs. Ray Morgan, of Halloway; Mrs. Percy Reynolds, Mrs. Alex Allison and Mrs. William Rodberg, all of Carmel.

For travelling to the United States and around Lake Ontario, the bride chose a suit of blue shot taffeta with white accessories, and corsage of white carnations.

Guests were present from Niagara Falls, Toronto, Frankford, Stirling, Madoc, Roslin, Belleville, Foxboro and Halloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will reside in Foxboro.

FISHER — SINE

Plak and white gladioli, backgrounded by ferns, adorned the altar rail of Wallbridge United Church, Wallbridge Ontario, on Saturday, August 7th, at 10.30 a.m., for the marriage of Lorena Artilla Sine, of Foxboro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sine, to Lieutenant Robert Edgar Fisher, of the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps, Camp Borden, son of Mrs. Robert Fisher and the late Mr. Fisher. Rev. W. E. G. Dovey officiated in the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Carman Sine, of Halloway, aunt of the bride, provided the wedding music, and the soloist, Miss Shirley Irvine, Reg. N., Belleville, rendered, "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a beautiful gown of fragile Chantilly lace. The bouffant skirt was flounced in the Elizabethan manner and the matching jacket featured an organdy collar and tapering sleeves ending in lily-points at the wrists. Her veil in fingertip length of tulle illusion was held by a matching Chantilly lace headdress studded with pearl sequins, and she carried a hand bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

She was attended by Mrs. Robert Mallory, nee Jane Ketcheson, of St. Thomas, as matron of honor; Miss Margaret Rose Sine, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and little Miss Barbara Bean, of Belleville, as flower girl. All wore gowns of white nylon designed with scattered Sweetheart rosebuds, with wide sashes of deep pink taffeta, with matching headdresses of pleated taffeta, matching elbow-length taffeta gloves and carried ballerina hand bouquets of Pinnocchio Sweetheart roses, gladioli petals, and trailing ivy. The matron of honor and the bridesmaid wore ballerina-length gowns, and the little flower girl, a short-length frock.

Mr. Desmond Fisher, of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen, while Mr. Lorne Sine, brother of the bride, and Mr. Robert Latta, acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church parlors, which were appropriately decorated for the occasion with pink and white gladioli.

The bride's mother, wearing navy blue lace and crepe with white and blue accessories and corsage of deep pink roses, received the guests. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who was attired in shrimp colored lace and crepe with beige accessories and corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

For the wedding trip to Deer Lodge, Halliburton, the bride chose a coat-dress of mogashel linen in intermission shade, white accessories and corsage of bronze mums. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will reside in Barrie.

Before leaving, the bride presented her bouquet to her grandmother, Mrs. Murney Hagerman, who was unable to attend due to illness.

Guests were present from Valcartier, Quebec, Camp Borden, Toronto, St. Thomas, Hipworth, Belleville, Ivanhoe, Springbrook, Trenton, Ottawa, Nova Scotia.

WHAT OTHERS SAY!

AID FOR INDUSTRY

(Kincardine News)

When industry sickens and decays, oftentimes there is a local situation at the base of this condition. Less frequently the situation is industry-wide, on a national scale.

Currently the latter prevails in Canadian textile industry. Management is not blaming labour does not accuse management of bringing about the unhappy situation.

Both are agreed that the remedy, if not the fault, lies with federal authorities. Both further agree that enforcement of anti-dumping laws, which would bar textiles coming in from other lands under certain conditions would go far to revive the faltering industry in Canada.

Employment in textile industry has dropped in Kincardine. It has dropped in the Maritimes, to the point where long established mill has closed. The same depressed condition prevails in Quebec in eastern Ontario, this part of the province, indeed everywhere that textile plants have been established.

The Canadian director of the Textile Workers Union of America has declared that the industry's problem is one of "unfair and cut-rate imports and can only be solved by immediate government action designed to limit the dumping of such imports on the Canadian market."

The regulations to prevent dumping exist. To enforce them would not constitute discrimination against any other nation with which Canada does business.

It is little consolation to workers in the textile industry or employers in the same field to have Ottawa give forth with promises of looking into the matter and considering a course of action.

Kingston Choir In England

The 40 members of St. George's Cathedral Choir of Kingston, which includes 24 young boys and 16 adults, left Kingston with their leader, Geo. N. Maybee, G. Ray McPhee, general manager for the trip, Rev. Derwyn Jones, choir chaplain and Keith Edmiston, boys' supervisor, on July 26th, for England. They are the first outside choir to have been invited to sing daily at Westminster Abbey. They will return to Canada late in August.

Hints For Hay Fever Sufferers

To the many thousands of sufferers from ragweed hay fever in Ontario, there are really only two things which can give uniform relief—complete eradication of ragweed, or removal of the sufferers to areas free of ragweed. The first is progressing, but is far from accomplishment. The second presents something impossible to most people who, annually, go through the hay fever season in states ranging "mildly irritated" to "insufferable living."

In years past, much has been written about hay fever, its reliefs and its cures. However, no one suggestion seems to fill the bill—that is, apply to all cases equally well. Annual injections have helped many, in varying degrees. Masks and inhalers have helped some but most hay fever sufferers would rather bear the tribulations of their allergy than put up with the discomfort of wearing masks or inhalers.

Sprays help temporarily in some cases but seem to aggravate others. Drugs have been used successfully in many cases to afford temporary relief, but in most instances the effectiveness of these drugs is greatly lessened as the sufferers' systems become accusomed to them.

Diet, exercise and rest all have come into the picture through various advocates of relief or cure for hay fever. High protein diets have proved effective in some cases.

In the selection of homes, hay fever sufferers should try and choose locations distant from weed-infested areas. The pollen of summer hay fever weeds, ordinarily, does not travel very far, and a mile is usually a safe distance. The pollen of the ragweeds and other fall hay fever weeds, however, is very buoyant, and in windy weather may travel three to five miles.

What can be done about it? Here are a few hints to sufferers suggested by the Departments of Health and Agriculture for Ontario:

1. Go to a safe haven from Hay Fever. Hay Fever sufferers can vacation almost anywhere in Northern Ontario, including most of Haliburton, Muskoka, Parry Sound and North thereof. Complete relief can be obtained by most sufferers in Northern Ontario. To be doubly safe select a place well removed from the main highway or close to extensive farming areas.

2. Pull or destroy all Ragweed in the immediate neighbourhood. Urge local municipal authorities to spray or cut Ragweed. Organize citizens' committees for local Ragweed control.

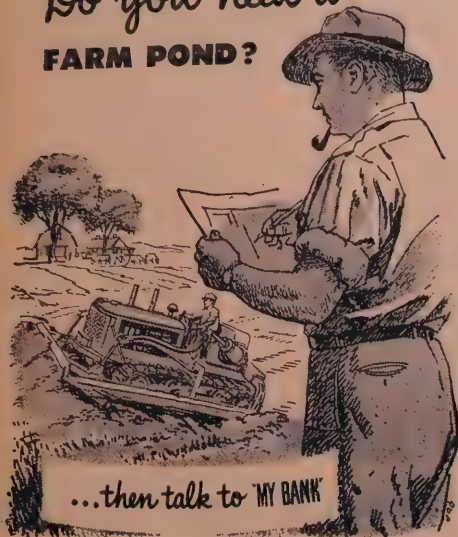

drives. Report neglected infestations.

3. If business or other obligations will not allow for a vacation in the North then there are one or two self helps which will bring some measure of relief. Any air cooling or ventilating system where the outside air is drawn in through a filter or cleaner will reduce the pollen count in the house very materially.

4. Another simple method is to keep one room in the house tightly closed all day. During this time any pollen in the room will settle and the Hay Fever sufferer can get some measure of relief during the evening and often a comfortable night's sleep.

Hay Fever is on respecter of persons although first attacks more frequently occur in persons between 20 and 30 years of age. The average victim suffers from six to eight weeks. Usually the Hay Fever season is over on the arrival of the first frost. An attack begins like that of a common cold with sneezing, itching, redness and puffing of the eyelids and watery discharges from the eyes and nose. The irritation interferes with rest. Most so called remedies provide very temporary relief. However, a series of inoculations to be completed before the Hay Fever season starts affords relief to some people, but the treatment must be repeated from year to year or continued at less frequent intervals throughout the winter.

Do you need a FARM POND?

If you run short of water in the late summer on your farm, you can probably cure the trouble for good with a well-placed farm pond.

Built where it will catch the spring run-off, your farm pond would provide a ready supply of drinking water for your cattle and a useful reservoir in times of drought. It's a boon to any type of farming, as many Canadian farmers have already discovered.

Don't let a shortage of ready cash delay this or any other farm improvement that will make your farm a better farm. Discuss your needs with your local B of M manager. He'll gladly tell you what a Farm Improvement Loan can do for your farm—how it can boost your profits and save you time and work.

ONTARIO HOLSTEIN TIES WORLD RECORD PRODUCTION

Springbank Adaline Burke, a member of the purebred Holstein herd of T. R. Dent & Son, Woodstock, Ont., has completed a Record of Performance test which makes her a co-holder of the World Record for milk production in the junior two-year-old class of the 365 day division on twice-a-day milking. It was just three months ago that Grahaven Milestone Mona was announced as the World Champion in this class with a production of 18,570 lbs. milk which figure has now been equalled by the Dent heifer. Mona made her record in the herd of R. D. Graham, Erin, Ont., and is now owned by W. K. MacLeod, Disraeli, Que.

Adaline's fat production of 681 lbs. fat with an average test of 3.67% butyric acid is the third highest ever made in the class in Canada. She was continued on test for 365 days and made 21,605 lbs. milk containing 797 lbs. fat which is the third largest for milk and the fifth highest for fat ever completed in Canada for her age in 365 days.

It is interesting to note that both of these heifers are sired by bulls in service in artificial breeding units, Adaline being a daughter of Pabst Roburke Lad one of the bulls owned by the Oxford & District Cattle Breeding Association, Woodstock, Ont., while Mona is a daughter of Glenafon Milestone who is owned by the Waterloo Cattle Breeders Association at Waterloo, Ont.

Adaline comes by her Championship performance honestly because on this dam's side of her pedigree she is directly descended from the famous Springbank Abbecker Adaline the first cow in Canada to make two records over 30,000 lbs. milk on three-times-a-day milking.

The new Champion's mother is sired by Elmcroft Monogram Echo one of the best proven bulls in the Oxford & District Cattle Breeding Association Unit while her dam in turn is sired by the noted Montvic Rag Apple Sovereign who also saw service in the Oxford Unit.

"FROZEN FOODS" AN INFORMATIVE BULLETIN

With the preservation of foods by freezing becoming increasingly popular with Ontario housewives there will be more than usual interest in a bulletin "Frozen Foods" prepared by a committee of experts and published by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Here in easily read style and generously illustrated, is everything that the householder needs to know to make a success of this modern method of food preservation.

The first section of the bulletin covers problems which are common to frozen foods. Other chapters contain discussions on the processing of fruits and vegetables, poultry meats and cooked foods.

The "Don't" and "Do's" of home freezing are well emphasized in an effort to prevent disappointment on the part of the housewife in the quality of frozen foods.

"The freezing method is, on the whole, a simple procedure," say the authors, "But even slight deviation from well proven procedures can result in serious loss in eating quality, and carelessness or ignorance can result in inedible or even dangerous products."

The bulletin, No. 504, may be obtained through the local Agricultural Representative or the Statistics and Publications Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

PRICES SUGGESTED FOR FALL WHEAT AND RYE SEED

The Seed Marketing and Publicity Committee of the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association at a recent meeting recommended the following minimum retail prices of seed wheat and rye.

No. 1 seed grown from Registered seed $1.80; Registered No. 1, $2.00; Registered No. 1 Genesee $2.15; and No. 1 Rye $1.40.

These are recommended retail per bushel prices f.o.b. farm or local shipping point, bags included and treated.

These prices are somewhat lower than last year and should provide ample encouragement for all growers requiring seed to purchase the registered grades which are sealed and tagged by Plant Products inspectors. Purchasers are thus assured of the variety, high standard of quality and germination.

No Dwarf Bunt is allowed in the registered grades and this year all wheat for registration is doubly checked first by field inspection and again by microscopic inspection of the grain to assure freedom of Dwarf Bunt in the registered grades.

The quality of Ontario seed wheat is excellent this year.

The newer varieties of Winter Wheat are resistant to Loose Smut but are not resistant to Stinking Smut or Bunt. Seed treatment will, however, control this Smut and all seed wheat should be treated.

For the few cents per acre more that the registered grades cost, it is good assurance to use only the highest grades which in most cases are sold treated so that there is no trouble or cost in treating.

The new Genesee variety, introduced last year in quantity, is a high yielding variety although slightly weaker in the straw than Dawbul or Cornell 595. Seed supplies of this variety are adequate this year at only a small advance over other varieties.

Rye is becoming more popular as a pasture and green manure crop. Rye provides excellent pasture in the late

Fall and early Spring and is used extensively as a plow-down crop in preparation for Tobacco, Potatoes and other cash crops.

APPLE CROPS GOOD TOMATOES BENEFIT BY RAINS

The Ontario Department of Agriculture's July report on seasonal fruit and vegetable estimates an increase in the apple crop hereabouts of 17% over last season, which is 7% better than their first estimate a month ago. The main part of the increase is in the eastern section of Northumberland and Prince Edward Counties.

With no rain in the Toronto to Belleville area from June 25th to July 15th, moisture is a governing factor in the yield of this season.

More recent rains will prove beneficial and will also help the tomato crop.

Weed of The Week

CRABGRASS — THE LAWN PEST

Crabgrass, or finger grass, (Digitaria sanguinalis, L., Scop.), is strictly a lawn weed. Once established it spoils the appearance of lawns, crowding out the lawn grasses, says the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It is a coarse, annual grass with broad, short leaves. In mid-summer the leaves and stems turn red or purple color. The stems spread along the ground, root at the nodes. The seed head is a group of spikes, radiating from the top of the stalk like fingers, hence the other name — finger grass.

Crabgrass produces a great deal of seed in July and August. This, along with its habit of rooting at the joints of the stems, makes it spread rapidly, and difficult to control. However, it has some weaknesses which can be exploited to advantage. It can not tolerate shade, so a dense mat of lawn tends to suppress it. Setting the lawn mower to cut a little higher during July and August will also contribute to this shading effect. Wild white clover in the lawn mixture is also useful. This small clover also creeps along the ground, so offers serious competition to the Crabgrass.

Crabgrass, being shallow rooted, benefits more from light, frequent watering than the deeper rooted, more desirable lawn grasses. Hence watering should be only as often as necessary, and then very thorough.

Chemical control of Crabgrass is feasible and several effective crabgrass killers are available. Potassium Cyanate — one quarter ounce to 3 quarts of water per 100 square feet of lawn is one successful method. Two treatments should be given, one before heading, the second one 2 to 3 weeks later.

Ont. Highways Dept. Will Have Display At CNE

Graphic model of huge, new traffic interchange which will connect the Toronto Bypass portion of Highway 401 with Highway 27, four-lane continuation to link up with the Queen Elizabeth Way, just west of Toronto, will be feature display of the Ontario Department of Highways at the Canadian National Exhibition, which opens on Friday, August 27th. This display will be located in the southeast arm of the Ontario Government Building which overlooks Lake Ontario.

While in Toronto for the Exhibition, Ontario citizens, visitors from other Canadian Provinces and the United States will be invited to drive on completed portion of the Toronto Bypass and Highway 400, Toronto to Barrie, four-lane and controlled access throughout, which is being developed as one of the greatest traffic congestion relief projects on the entire North American Continent. Total length of the Toronto Bypass, including rebuilt four-lane portion of Highway 27, will be over 25 miles from junction with the Queen Elizabeth Way, Toronto to Niagara Falls and Port Erie, to West Hill junction with the former Highway 2-A, Toronto to Oshawa, which now is a part of Highway 401, the Trans-Provincial Expressway, which has been completed eastward to a point just west of Newcastle.

Cost of the Toronto Bypass Project, exclusive of interchanges which already handle traffic into and from major divisions of West Toronto, and soon will be serving East Toronto areas in the same way, figures at about $400,000 a mile.

The display by the Ontario Department of Highways, made to scale of 1-16th of an inch to a foot, will illustrate the operation of this vital link in Ontario's ambitious effort to provide a quick, modern thru-way from the American border to Ontario's northern vacation land.

The complete traffic interchange between Toronto Bypass and Highway 27 will show two lanes north and two lanes south on Highway 27, plus a service road at each side. In addition the model will have one of the overpasses to be on this route when completed. Cars will run continuously over the model of the 23-foot traffic lanes, which, as on all controlled access highways, will be separated by a depressed median strip.

The motoring public, who in future may use this link to get from the Queen Elizabeth Way to the Toronto Bypass, will be confronted with a maze of traffic circles. The latest in modern highway planning has gone into the development of this traffic artery, to ensure a safe and speedy interchange of traffic. Model cars will show how one may get on and off the bypass. Cars will travel west on Toronto Bypass and turn south on Highway 27. Other cars will be travelling north on Highway 27, and will demonstrate how to go east on the bypass.

Those who take time to study this enlightening model at the Exhibition will be one up on the motoring public when the completed bypass is available.

Another display will show two cross-sections of highway and how a new road is built up. One will depict the development of a road where excavation was necessary. The other will show a road built by using fill.

The Ontario Highways' display will also show a map of the Province of Ontario, with all highways illuminated. This was a popular feature of last year's exhibition. It will show by means of broken, illuminated lines, any place in Ontario where construction is in progress. It will be completely up-to-date.

This display was of particular interest to American visitors last year. They took advantage of it to discover the most direct route between points in Ontario they wished to visit.

Personnel in the Highways' Department and Display shop started working on the model of the traffic interchange early in May. Last few days before opening of the Canadian National Exhibition will be spent setting up the model and ironing out any wrinkles which may develop.

A visit to this display should prove both enlightening and instructive to motorists from many points of view.

Will Charge Car Owner

W. B. Common, director of public prosecutions, Ontario attorney general's department, said recently the owner of a car will in future be charged in traffic violations whether he is at the wheel or not.

The department moved to close a supposed loophole in the law which has permitted drivers to beat speeding charges because they could not be positively identified.

No change in the Ontario Highways Act will be necessary to put the new ruling into effect, it was reported. Charges will be laid under Section 49 which states that the owner of a car is responsible.

Police said radar traps in operation on Highway 400 and the Queen Elizabeth Way last week-end slowed traffic as motorists sighted warning signs.

Belleville Block Sold To Toronto Firm

An announcement has been made by Mr. Sam Pappas, Belleville, of the sale of the East Robertson Block, extensively damaged by fire a week ago to Principal Investments. The new owners will take over possession of the business block immediately.

The new owners will complete the repairs to the building made necessary by the fire which gutted the Vanity Fair dance hall section of the top floor and caused water damage to business offices and stores on the first and second floors.

9-Year-Old Boy Dies In Tweed

A nine-year-old boy was killed on Friday, August 6th when he was trapped in a sand pit on his father's farm on No. 37 Highway, a mile south of Tweed. Garry Holmes son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Holmes had been digging for swallow eggs with three other boys, his brother Dennis, 7; Billy Thompson, 6 and David Thompson, 10. The Thompson boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Thompson, of Tweed.

After the sand collapsed, Dennis freed himself and ran home to raise the alarm. With another brother, Wayne, age 16, he returned to the pit where, with the aid of Highways Department workers the others were dug out.

The dead boy's head was buried under the sand when the rescue workers arrived. Forestry workers used a respirator on the lad for over three hours without avail. Dr. J. F. McCue was called to the scene, but was unable to be of any assistance.

Vicky Armstrong Crowned "Queen of The Playground" Last Night

Prizes For Various Exhibits And Contests — Stirling Band Contributes Selections

With fitting ceremony, Vicky Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, Front St. W., was crowned "Queen of the Playground" at the "Open House" ceremonies held at the Church St. Recreational Field last night. The act of crowning the queen was carried out by Miss Wendy Warren, who gave an appropriate address, while Miss Noreen Brooks made the presentation of the wand of office. John Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, Edward St., was crowned as "King of the Playground" by Gerald Malloy. The King and Queen were chosen by ballot by the boys and girls on Tuesday night.

Paid Tribute To Supervisors

Dr. R. Vandervoort, President of the Stirling Rotary Club, which sponsors the playground during the summer months, acted as master of ceremonies and welcomed the large audience of children, parents and others interested. He paid glowing tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irish for their untiring efforts as supervisors of playground activities and stated the average attendance at the playground was 75 and at Oak Lake for swimming 55.

Stirling Citizens' Band, under the leadership of Maurice Bell, was in attendance and rendered numerous selections during the program, which opened with "O Canada."

Mutt Show

The results of the dog show were as follows: Biggest dog, Susan Webber; Smallest dog, Doug Bolte; Fattest dog, Sharon Rogers; Thinnest dog, Vicky Armstrong; Dog with the longest tail, Billy Boskic; Dog with the shortest tail, Robert Luery; Best looking dog, John Noble.

Decorated "Bikes"

The following were the winners in the bicycle, tricycles and best dressed dolls:

Boys Decorated Bicycle — James Waterfall and Denton Shortt.

Girls' Decorated Bicycle — Marlene Bruce and Janice Brooks.

Girls under 7 Decorated Tricycle — Sue Ann Bastedo and Linda West.

Boys under 7 Decorated Tricycle — Robert Bastedo and Ronnie Brooks.

Girls under 7 Best Dressed Doll — Leslie Hawkins and Morene Andrews.

Girls over 7 Best Dressed Doll — Martha Scholten and Jean Ann Mayhew.

Singing

The playground children rendered a number of vocal selections, under the leadership of J. Irish.

Contests

In the Boys' Marble Play-off, Eddie Mayhew proved the best and for the girls, Vicky Armstrong was the winner. Jean Ann Mayhew was the winner of the Bubble Gum contest.

A display of arts and crafts constructed by the children during the summer was of particular interest and drew many compliments from the viewers.

Back To School Buying Gains Momentum

The business of going back to school means plenty of shopping. This week is a good time to start.

There are notebooks, text books, pencils, protractors, geometry sets, pens, erasers, dictionaries and a dozen-and-one other things to be provided for the student every Fall.

Clothes are another problem that must be solved in the Fall.

Too soon the fine warm weather will give way to nippy, blustery and rainy weather that calls for warm footwear, soft woolen sweaters, raincoats, wind-breakers and warmer suits.

For Secondary School students the first few days of school are one mad whirl of buying text books. How much time and trouble they could save themselves by buying them beforehand.

Buy At Local Stores

The Stirling stationers have lists of books that will be required for every year in High School, while local stores are well stocked with wearing apparel.

Basket Collection By Local Cubs On Saturday

The members of the Stirling Cub Patrol will be gathering six-quart baskets on Saturday, August 28th. Citizens are asked to put them out for collection.

Sister Died In England

Mrs. C. W. Thompson received word last week of the death of her youngest sister, Etta, (Mrs. Tibble) of Surbiton Surrey, England, on Wednesday last. Mrs. Tibble visited her sister here last year and friends here will regret to learn of her passing.

New Owners Bartlett Grocery

Announcement has been made that Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Meeks, of Belleville, have purchased the grocery and egg-grading station, operated by Floyd Bartlett, on Mill Street. Mr. Meeks has been in the store this week familiarizing himself with the business and will take possession on September 1st.

Takes Course

Miss Laura E. Lee left on August 15th to attend a 5-day course at MacDonald Institute, Guelph. This course is under the leadership of a well-known instructor of the U.S.A., Mrs. Edna Bryte Bishop. From Guelph Miss Lee will proceed to Toronto to attend the triennial conference of the Canadian Home Economics Association, being held at the Royal York Hotel, August 23rd to 27th. The trip will include a visit to the Shakespearean Theatre at Stratford and conducted tour of Niagara Falls and Melody Fair.

Local Golfers In Prize Group

Local golfers did well at the ninth annual tournament at the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club, Belleville, on Saturday.

Geo. Noble carded an 88 in "C" Flight and won a mantle radio; X. P. Mayhew, with a score of 69, won 2nd low net and received a combination picnic and boat cushion, and Dr. R. Vandervoort won 3rd low net with a score of 70. He received a leather travelling case as a prize.

Bowlers Won In Campbellford

Three pairs of local bowlers participated in the mixed doubles tournament at Campbellford yesterday, with Miss Rosa Spry and Mr. F. R. Mallory winning second prize for three wins. Others in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fox and Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Carleton.

Bowl At Peterborough

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Elliott attended the mixed doubles tournament in Peterborough yesterday.

Messrs. W. T. Elliott, and H. R. Tompkins, of the local club, and "Mac" McDonald, of Campbellford, competed as a trio in the triples tournament in Belleville on Saturday.

Loses Brother

Stirling and district friends extend sympathy to Frank Sprentall, manager of the local Public Utilities, in the loss of a brother, Marshall Sprentall, whose death occurred in Fort Erie, on Wednesday. The funeral will take place at Fort Erie on Friday.

Postmasters Hold Basket Picnic

The Postmasters and their families of Zone No. 1 of the Postmasters' Association, enjoyed a basket picnic at the cottage of the Bonarlaw Postmaster, W. J. Barlow, at Crowe Lake, on Sunday. There were approximately seventy in attendance and a good time was had by all.

Decoration Service District L.O.L.

The annual decoration service of No. 1 District Centre Hastings Loyal Orange Association took place on Sunday last, under ideal weather conditions. The brethren, representing the four lodges of the district, assembled at the hall of Tanner Lodge, No. 509, on the 8th Concession of Rawdon, and headed by the Sentinel Klittle Band, paraded to St. Thomas Anglican Church. The service was conducted by Canon Rev. J. M. Brownlie, of Marmora, who gave an inspiring address on "Sacrificial Giving."

W. J. Cottrell, Diocesan Lay Reader, read the lesson. Wor. Bro. Murney Johnston, District Master, presided at the ceremonies at the cemetery, assisted by Past County Master W. J. Cottrell, Gordon Jones, Past County Master of Marmora L.O.L. No. 319, and Wor. Bro. Francis Hagerman, Director of Ceremonies.

Right Wor. Bro. Fred Bateman, of Stirling, Past Grand Master of Ontario East, gave a brief address.

There were 48 members of L.O.L. No. 509 who were remembered at this service. L.O.L. 509 observes its centenary this year.

Returning to the hall, short addresses were heard from Canon Brownlie, County Master Milton Hagerman, Grand Lecturer Lorne Hagerman and Wor. Bro. Harold Spencer, of Sentinel Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wells Feted On 25th Wedding Anniversary

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wells, Charlotte St., was the scene of a happy family reunion yesterday, in honour of their 25th wedding anniversary, which they will observe on Sunday next, August 29th.

Mrs. Wells is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Bowerman, of Cherry Valley, in Prince Edward County, and Mr. Wells, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wells, of Marmora. They have two children, Eleanor, who was a member of the Public School Staff in Kingston last year, and will attend Queen's University this year, and Tommy at home.

Presentation

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wells were presented with a silver tea service by the combined families, as well as numerous gifts from the members of their respective families.

Turkey Dinner

At five o'clock the guests, numbering forty, were entertained at a turkey dinner in St. Paul's United Church Parlor. The rooms were decorated with baskets of gladioli and other seasonal flowers, while a three-tiered wedding cake, the gift of the groom's mother, occupied a prominent place on the table.

Following the dinner, Mr. Harold Wells, acted as master of ceremonies, and Mr. J. L. Good proposed a toast to the bride and groom of twenty-five years, to which both made suitable replies. A toast to the parents was proposed by Mr. Orville Wells, of Lindsay, and Mr. T. G. Bowerman and Mr. Chas. Wells responded.

The guests returned to the home for the remainder of the evening.

The News-Argus joins with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wells many more years of happy wedded bliss.

Scouts Take Course

Allen Wells and Martin Secker are attending a Silver Arrowhead Course at Montgomery Lake, near Petawawa, this week.

Local Horsemen Prize Winners At District Fairs

Stirling horsemen are winning a share of the prize money in the light horse classes at the district fairs.

At the Peterborough Fair, John Sheridan, who has three roadsters and a team of Hackneys, topped three second prizes and three thirds. At Belleville Fair last week he got one first, two seconds and three thirds.

Earl Johnson, local baker, scored a second with his team at Belleville and a fourth in the single roadster class.

Geo. Sutherland scored two firsts in the roadster classes at Belleville, and fourth on the team. At Peterborough he had three fourth prizes, a fifth and two sixths.

Competition in these classes has been very keen and the local horsemen are to be congratulated on their success. They are competing at the Picton Fair this week.

Rotary Speaker

A Wickens, of Campbellford, was the guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting of Stirling Rotary Club, on Tuesday night. The speaker showed slides of scenes in the Adirondacks, Boston and other U.S. centres. President R. Vandervoort presided and Rotarian Bob Patterson led the customary sing-song.

Hanna-Montgomery Nuptials Saturday

St. Paul's United Church Parsonage, Stirling, was the scene of a pretty double ring wedding ceremony on Saturday, August 21st, at 4 p.m., when Marie Frances, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery, Stirling, became the bride of Jack Allen Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hanna, of Frankford, with Rev. Arthur Packman, D.P.S., officiating and twenty guests in attendance.

The bride wore a tailored gabardine suit of glacier blue with silver flock, white accessories and a corsage of red roses and bouvardia.

Miss Delores Semark, of Belleville, was the bride's attendant, wearing a tailored suit of navy blue with white accessories and corsage of roses.

Mr. Maurice Montgomery, brother of the bride, was the groom's attendant.

A reception dinner was held at the Sterling Hotel following the ceremony. The dining room was artistically decorated with a canopy of pink streamers and white bells over the head table. The three-tiered wedding cake was set in white tulle with miniature bride and groom as a top ornament. The cake was flanked by low bowls of "Smilin' Maestro" gladioli and fern. Silver baskets of varicolored gladioli, with Princess Elizabeth and Black Opal predominating, were used as floral decorations.

The bride's mother received her guests in a tailored grey gabardine suit with navy accessories and corsage of red rosebuds, assisted by the groom's mother wearing beige bengaline with bronze accessories and rose corsage.

Dr. Packman was master of ceremonies for a programme of toasts, after which several flash pictures were taken of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanna left by motor for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls and points west. On their return they will reside in Stirling.

Appendectomy

Bob Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Noble, underwent an appendectomy in Belleville Hospital on Tuesday. The latest report is that he is progressing well.

Sells Property

Mr. Stanley Crause, of Toronto, has sold his residence on John Street to Mr. Brown, of Cobourg, who recently purchased the Stirling Dairy from Mr. Arnold Wannamaker.

Home From Camp

Misses Carol Ray, Carol Fargey, Laura Jeffrey, Heather Rodgers and Sally Fox returned home on Friday, after spending ten days camping at the Glen Mhor Presbyterian Camp, Lake Simcoe.

Prize Baby

David Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robson, of this village, won first prize in the under six months class at Belleville Fair last week.

Awards Won By Student

The Hon. J. R. Cooke Scholarship, value $50.00, for the best eight papers in the Upper School Examinations at Stirling High School, was won by Jack Hagertry, according to an announcement by Principal J. I. Good, this week.

He also won the Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lawlor Memorial Scholarship, value $60, open to students of Stirling High School attending Queen's University.

Goes To Toronto

Paster David Mikelson, of the Stirling Pentecostal Assembly, preached his farewell message Sunday night, last, August 22nd. Mr. Mikelson's messages have brought comfort and encouragement to quite a few people in the Stirling area.

Mr. Mikelson is going to work among his own people, the Ukrainians, in Toronto.

Local Happenings of Interest About Town

Fair Prize Lists Now Available

Large Number of Specials Prizes Offered Exhibitors On Sept. 30th and Oct. 1st

The prize lists for Stirling Fall Fair to be held on September 30th and October 1st are ready for distribution this week.

The Directors have spared no effort to make it attractive, with the amount of prize money being increased in several instances, while a larger number of specials have been donated by outside firms and local citizens.

Horse Classes

The horse section has been revised with the addition of two sections in the Pony Class to the customary Heavy Draught, Agricultural, Roadster, Carriage, Hackney and Wagon Classes.

There are also several special prizes offered which should result in one of the best shows of horses at Stirling Fair in years.

The customary Cattle Classes, with many specials, are also listed.

The ladies' work section of the prize list has been completely revised and attractive prizes are offered.

Public School Section

A special section for public schools in Sidney, Rawdon and Stirling is also included, with good prizes being offered for school parades, and exhibits in various classes; see prize list for particulars.

Junior Farmer Section

Section

There is also a Junior Farmer Section, the Stirling 4-H Calf Club Achievement Day and the South Hastings 4-H Grain Club Achievement Day.

The farmers and their wives, as well as local citizens, are urged to get a prize list and be an exhibitor in one of the many classes offered. The Agricultural Society sponsors the Fair entirely in the interests of the farmers of the surrounding district and should be encouraged.

Copies of the prize list may be obtained from R. E. Shortt, Secretary, or at the News-Argus office.

Historic Hay Bay Church Pilgrimage Will Be Held Sunday, August 29

On the shore of Hay Bay, Ontario, there is a monument to Sir John A. Macdonald and alongside of it stands the old Hay Bay Church. It was built in 1793. Formerly a Methodist Church and now in The United Church of Canada, it has great historic significance. It is the oldest of the former Methodist Churches in Canada. The original building stands just as it was built. The United Church of Canada is working to preserve it and maintain it. A few years ago, a cottage was built nearby and now every year a minister occupies the cottage for July and August and meets the visitors of which there is an increasing number.

In 1862 when the population in the area moved back from the shore a bit a new church was built a mile or so distant and the services were transferred to the new building.

Though no longer used for regular church services, a pilgrimage to this old shrine is held every year and cars from all parts of Eastern Ontario make their way to the old church for a service of commemoration. This year, the pilgrimage will be held on Sunday afternoon, August 29th, at three o'clock P.M. The acting secretary of the General Council of The United Church of Canada, Rev. Geo. Dorey, D.D., is the guest preacher.

The church lies on the south side of Hay Bay and can be reached by car either from Napanea in the east or by Glenora and free ferry to Adolphus town.

Carman Clapp's Body Found In Woods

The body of Carman A. Clapp, who had been missing from his home on the 2nd Concession of Thurlow Township since Monday, August 16th, was found in a wood near his home about 1.00 p.m. Sunday by members of a 60-man search party organized by OPP Constable J. S. McBride, of Belleville.

Clapp died of a shotgun wound. The gun was recovered by police near his body.

Clapp left his home about 2 p.m. Monday, August 16th, with the expressed intention of going rabbit hunting. When he failed to return neighbours became worried. They organized a search party Thursday which failed to find him.

The search party organized Sunday consisted of some 60 friends and neighbours. The body was found in a wood which straddles an infrequently travelled lane separating the second and third concessions of Thurlow Township a few miles northeast of Belleville.

Clapp was awaiting a hearing in magistrate's court in Madoc on a charge of careless driving in connection with an accident in which his wife and daughter, Frances Virginia, were killed about three months ago. The case had been laid over several times.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Clapp, four sons and four daughters: Charles Frederick, 18; Norman Wayne, 16; Robert James, 11; William Albert, 8; Mary Ellen, 9; Linda Jean, 5; and twins, Carol Irene and Carolyn Eileen, 3.

The children have been staying with their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Grille, for the past three months.

Entered Into Rest

MRS. WINNIE LOUISA FRANCIS

A former resident of Belleville district and Huntingdon Township, Mrs. Winnie Louisa Francis died at her home, R.R. 1, Aylmer, Ontario, August 17th, in her 83rd year. Her death followed three years of ill health.

A resident of Aylmer for the past 25 years, Mrs. Francis was born in Huntingdon Township, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin. The last surviving member of her family, she was predeceased 15 years ago by her husband, Robert J. Francis. She was a member of the United Church.

Friends from the U.S.A., Hamilton, Madoc, Belleville and Stirling attended her funeral at Aylmer, Friday, August 20th.

Surviving are two sons, Walter, of Madoc and Charles of Flatrock, Mich., U.S.; three daughters, Mrs. Laura Rollins, Aylmer, Ont.; Mrs. William (Myrtle) Barlow, Springfield, Ont., and Mrs. C. A. (Lily) Mitchell, Belleville.

Also surviving are 19 grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren.

DENNY VAUGHAN

After winning fame in England and the United States, Toronto-born vocalist Denny Vaughan has returned home to entertain Canadians via CBC radio and television. His success story began overseas with the Army Show. After the war he became the featured singer with the orchestras of George Melachrino and Gerald. He was billed as "the English Sinatra" and Britain's No. 1 Crooner. Later he moved to New York, where he signed a contract with Coral records, did the arrangements for Kate Smith's television show, and became a night club favorite. He returned to Canada to accept an attractive offer of a commercial radio show, which was an instant success. Currently, he may be heard on "The Denny Vaughan Show" on the Trans-Canada network every week, as well as on television.

Many Troops Will Be Home For Christmas

The army plans to bring hundreds of Canadian troops home from Korea by Christmas, defence officials said Friday.

However, it was not yet decided which units in the 6,000-man brigade would be withdrawn.

The officials were commenting on a statement in Camberley, England, by Sir John Harding, chief of the Imperial general staff, that the Commonwealth Division will be cut to one-third its present size.

The logical move, officials said, would seem to be to withdraw two of the three infantry battalions but it might be decided to bring home one battalion.

Young Worker Drowns In River Near Marmora

Frank Lamontagne, 21, of Montreal, and an employee of Dominion Structures who have a contract at Bethlehem Steel Company's plant, Marmora, was drowned in Beaver Creek near Wanganui Lodge about 5 p.m. on Friday.

He and a companion, Bill Lesperance, were out in an outboard motor boat, the companion running the motor.

Lamontagne fell out and not being able to swim, sang in about 12 feet of water. Lesperance, also a non-swimmer made a vain attempt to save him.

WHAT OTHERS SAY!

THE PARLIAMENTARY RESTAURANT

Food in the Parliamentary restaurant in Ottawa, according to press gallery correspondents, has improved greatly during the recent session, says the Bridgewater (N.S.) Bulletin. Deficits, however, claims The Bulletin, continue to mount, totalling as much as $75,000 for the recent six months period reported.

The deficit will be met, as usual, in case of government enterprises which fail to make money, from the pockets of Canadian taxpayers. Effects of meeting deficit on operations of parliamentary restaurant is that taxpayers are subsidizing meals of $10,000-a-year M.P.'s and Senators.

If Parliamentary restaurant cannot be made to pay its way, it should be shut down. Surely the recent increase in the salary of those sitting in both houses will shame said members in the habit of paying their way. If not the citizens of Canada should look around for men with honour to represent the various constituencies.

MOST FAMOUS OF COWS

(Regina Leader-Post)
Mrs. O'Leary's cow enjoys an immortality unmatched in history. It will be remembered that it was this frisky provider that kicked over a lantern and touched off the great Chicago Fire. That was in 1871. Not to know of Mrs. O'Leary's cow and her place in the annals of a time is to be wholly lacking in the historical sense. She has attained legendary dignity; is, in fact, enshrined in American folklore.

The property on which this famous event occurred has recently been a matter of dispute in terms of land values. This in itself is not important. But certain heresies that cropped up during the argument are and, according to the headline writer, Mrs. O'Leary's cow has another kick coming.

She has indeed. A scoffing alderman, devoided of sentiment and any capacity for feeling, declared that Mrs. O'Leary's cow was strictly a legend. He meant that the story was apocryphal, that is, balderdash. "The story I've heard since I was a boy," he said, "was that some of Mrs. O'Leary's relatives kicked over the lantern."

DISSERTATION ON ROAST PIG

(Ottawa Journal)

The fire in the Montreal stockyards the other day in which some 200 hogs were roasted must have sent other persons than this present writer to the dusty volume of Charles Lamb's essays and his once-famous "A Dissertation Upon Roast Pig."

The essayist recalls that mankind for many ages ate their meat raw. Then there came upon the scene a Chinese lad Bo-bo, son of the swineherd Ho-ti.

One day Bo-bo was left in charge of his father's humble dwelling in which nine young pigs also were housed. Bo-bo, fond of playing with fire, accidentally set the building ablaze and the nine little pigs perished.

Bo-bo, looking over the ruins and wondering what he should tell his father, found his nostrils tantalized by a wonderful aroma. There at his feet was one of the roasted pigs. He felt it to see if any life remained, burned his fingers, and put them to his mouth.

"Some of the crumbs of the scorched skin had come away with his fingers, and for the first time in his life (in the world's life indeed, for before him no man had known it) he tasted — crackling."

Bo-bo ended by consuming the roasted pig, and when Ho-ti returned initiated his father into the secret. Soon the neighbours began to notice the frequency of fires in the Ho-ti establishment — a fire every time there was a new supply of little pigs — and then by watching discovered the mystery. Ho-ti was hauled away to Pekin to be tried for unlawful practices, but the jury and then the judge sampled the roasted evidence and the swineherd was triumphantly acquitted.

From that time there were fires everywhere and no house was safe if a pig were inside it.

Then one day a wise man emerged who discovered that a pig might be roasted "without the necessity of consuming a whole house to dress it," and a new art had been born, a step forward in civilization taken.

FREE PUBLICITY CAN BE EXPENSIVE PROPOSITION

(Carleton Place Canadian)

Frequently, The Canadian is asked to give free publicity, particularly on the front page, by persons or organizations sponsoring an event in the community. A standard rule of newspapers is not to allow free publicity BEFORE an event when an admittance fee is charged.

When a person or organization charges, it is only fair that newspapers should be paid for advertising of any nature submitted. After all, newspapers rely on advertising for their revenue to operate. If free publicity for an event where a charge is made is given, it follows any advertiser can request advertising be published free of charge.

Where no charge is made, it is regarded as a straight news event and treated as such. General exceptions to this rule are support of patriotic and community activities devised to benefit the community. These are usually supported by newspapers as a community service.

Sometimes some advertisers ask for a free news story to go with their advertising. Actually this is like expecting a retailer to give away an electric range when a refrigerator is purchased.

Advertising is by far the main source of revenue to a newspaper. Subscriptions help pay for tone of newsprint, ink, upkeep of machines, etc., but by no means meet the cost of production. It follows one could hardly expect a retailer to give away his stock in trade to help someone else make a profit; a professional man certainly would not do it.

On the other hand, newspapers are usually exceptionally generous in supporting community efforts of a worthy type. This is a fact that should not be forgotten. In this regard, far more free publicity is usually given than is received in advertising patronage.

Lest anyone think otherwise, it does cost the publishers something to give away such free publicity. The printing trade demand some of the highest wage rates paid in Canada or the United States. Contrary to some public opinion, new stories do not represent revenue but are part of the overhead carried by newspapers.

Mrs. Eric Summers Hostess To Mount Pleasant W.M.S.

Mrs. Eric Summers was hostess on Wednesday for the August meeting of Mount Pleasant, Rawdon, Woman's Missionary Society. Seventeen members, eight visitors and several children were in attendance.

Mrs. Carleton Potts played quiet music and Mrs. Frank Jeffs read a selection on the theme "Honour." All sang "Happy is the Home." The offering was gathered by Jean Sharpe and dedicated by Mrs. Percy MacMullen.

The Secretaries of Stewardship and Temperance each gave items of interest. The name of Mrs. R. R. Bonsteel will be transferred to Janetville W.M.S. for the balance of 1954.

Mrs. Roy Thrasher presided over the programme which she had prepared. Mrs. Kenneth Weaver read a paper on the theme, "We help others when we help ourselves." Mrs. Robt. Morrick read the Bible Lesson. Carol and Jean Sharpe sang, "Praise Him."

Mrs. Herbert Smith gave a devotional paper and said, "Honour is the basic characteristic for Christian living." Mrs. Ross Hoard rendered piano music. Mrs. Burton Sharpe outlined Protestant Missions in South America.

There are hospitals in Puerto Rico, Leprosariums in Paraguay; experimental agricultural projects in Brazil; Mission Schools in Argentina and Colombia, and a Fellowship House in Buenos Aires. The Presbyterian Hospital in San Juan is the only one in the Caribbean with its population of twelve million people. The various Evangelical organizations in Mexico, Brazil and Colombia are now united as one Protestant Mission.

The third Congress of Christian Youth Evangelical Work has as its officers: President, a Waldensian from Uruguay; vice presidents, a Congregationalist from Mexico, a Presbyterian from Brazil and a Methodist from Argentina; the secretaries were a Presbyterian from Colombia, another one from the Christian Missionary Alliance of Ecuador, and a Methodist from Peru.

There are thirty airstrips at the modern Missionary needs a plane and this group are also world pioneers in radio evangelism.

Mrs. Will McAdam and Mrs. Ira David gave a vocal duet and the service closed with "Come Ye Thankful." The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Blake Sharp with Mrs. Ross Hoard in charge of programme and the keyword will be "Charity."

The hostess served light refreshments at the close of an interesting meeting.

Open Air Concert At Rylstone

The fifth open air concert at Crowe River Bridge Picnic Grounds was held on Sunday night, August 15th, with the largest crowd in attendance yet.

The Rylstone community was responsible for the programme which was as follows, with Mrs. Don Kerr as Mistress of Ceremonies: Welcome by Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, Institute President, and Mr. Bourne, picnic grounds operator; theme song, "Church in the Wildwood," vocal and instrumental duet, "One By One," by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spencer, accompanied by electric guitar and accordion; encore, "Can't You Hear The Blessed Savior Calling You," community singing, led by Mrs. Wilfred Spencer and Mrs. Ellis Jones and Margaret Spencer and Clare Windover; quartette, "I Don't Feel At Home In This World Anymore," by Linda and Gail Sine and Marion and Shirley Broadworth, all of Sine, accompanied by Linda Sine on the piano accordion; encore, "I'm Nobody's Child," vocal and electric guitar solo, "It Is No Secret," by Freddie Spencer.

Group singing was enjoyed by the Seniors, Intermediates and Juniors. Several bagpipe selections were given by the Sentinel Bagpipe Band, followed by a vocal duet, "The Old Rugged Cross," by Clare Windover, of Northam, and Margaret Spencer, accompanied on the guitar and accordion by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spencer; encore, "In the Garden," vocal trio, "In My Heart There Rings a Lullaby," Patsy Wallace and Craig and Glenn Watson, of Wellman's Corners; encore, "I've Got a Mansion Just Over the Hill Top," vocal trio, "Now the Day is Over," by Lulabelle, Brenda and Arnold Mattews, of Wellman's Corners; encore, "Oh Worship the King," piano accordion solo, "Nearer My God To Thee," Linda Sine; bagpipe solo, Don Baldwin, of Campbellford; piano accordion solo, Gladys Clarke, of Holloway; encore, "Lady of Spain," vocal and guitar duet, "The Lovely Mansion on the Hill," by Shirley and Marion Broadworth, of Sine.

Several numbers were given by the Sentinel Pipe Band and the program closed with the National Anthem.

The time of the concert next Sunday, August 22nd, will be at 7:45 p.m. as the evenings are getting much shorter. Campbellford Citizens' Band will be in attendance and the balance of the programmes will be prepared by the Seymour East Women's Institute. Be sure to attend.

DRUM POLIO OUT OF ONTARIO

How much courage does it take to face life with useless arms or legs? Where does it come from? Unknown quantities — both of them — but there is one thing we do know about it — that little spark of spirit that must come from within can be fanned into life and kept alive by a sense of security, the knowledge that there is a great strong friend right at your hand ready to help you, fight for you, and pay — that is the key word — PAY for whatever treatment or training you need to get back on the road, no matter how long it takes nor what the cost. The sympathetic understanding of family and friends and employers is vital too, but it is not enough without the assurance that money will be available to meet the costs, and that there are well-trained medical people available to give them all the care they need.

No one of us is in a position to be such a friend and sponsor to all polios, but together we can create a Foundation that will be all these things to those who need it. But it will take ALL of us, not just a few of us — the nickles and dimes as well as the bills and cheques, to strengthen the Foundation's hand and work the magic bellows that will give them back the will to fight. Witness this letter that, though directed to the Foundation, is really intended for you — the donors that keep the Foundation alive — "I have meant to write to you so many times to thank you for the many things you have done for me, but the day never seems long enough. I am sure I would never have progressed so well if it wasn't for the fact that you have given me so much encouragement, and the will to fight. My typing is progressing thanks to the use of your typewriter and a friend loaned me a beginners book which I am following and learning much of the theory from. This should cut down the time I will have to spend in school and enable me to devote more time to shortland. On Monday I go to clinic, and expect to get my discharge. I do hope you do not want me to begin at Shaw's before September, because three friends have invited me for a holiday which seems fantastic, but I would like to accept one. I will have to work two years before I get on and I went into hospital last year the week my holiday started. Since I will not be allowed to do any housework, I would like to take the typewriter to keep in practice if it is all right with you. I thought I would take the children with me to clinic to show them off, everyone there has been so kind to me. Thanks for everything . . . Christine."

See now carefully she is planning her future with an eye to economy, but completely confident that you are there to see her through. It is difficult to realize that this young woman, legs and back weakened by polio, is the sole support of two young children — her husband disappeared shortly after she was admitted to hospital. Welfare authorities are helping her now that she has re-established a home and will continue to do so until she can earn again. She was a hairdresser, but cannot return to the long hours on her feet.

You can easily imagine her anxiety during the months when she was in hospital and the children were left with relatives whose responsibilities more than matched their income. The Foundation remembered (for you) that young children grow so quickly they can rarely wear last winter's clothes this winter, and, when the weather got cold, knew that Christine would be worrying about warm clothing for her two young ones and sent her money to buy what was needed. When she could tolerate separation from her family no longer, she went home and continued therapy as an outpatient, the necessary taxi-fares three times a week being paid by your Foundation.

Everyone who has dealt with this young woman has been impressed by her intelligence, sincerity and courageous approach to life, and would like to give her and the many others like her a chance to finish what she has set out to do — stand on her own two feet, physically and financially. If you are still with us, prepared to continue to support the Foundation with whatever you can, nickles, dimes or dollars, Christine, and all those whom she here represents, will have their chance. Put your donation in the first Polio Drum you see, or send it now while it is in your mind to 34 Grosvenor St. or Box 10, Toronto. Drum Polio out of Ontario.

Perhaps it needs to be pointed out, again that no vehicle, no matter how urgent its mission, has right of way through a red traffic light.

Soldier Apprentice Plan offers young men of 16 a bright future

ENROLL NOW!
Training begins Sept. 13

The Canadian Army's Soldier Apprentice Training Plan is a carefully planned programme to help young men of 16 to prepare themselves for the future and a career in the Army — to develop mature judgment, self discipline and build a strong, healthy personality.

As a Soldier Apprentice, a young man will get a thorough trade training in one of 19 military trades — academic training in such subjects as physics, chemistry, algebra and English — a general military training of the Canadian Soldier.

... he will be living and working alongside enthusiastic, happy Canadians his own age while getting a combination of military training, schooling, plenty of recreation and expert trade training

... he will be eligible for all Army benefits including 30 days annual leave.

... he will receive half regular Army pay while 16 and on his 17th birthday will draw full pay.

To be eligible, a young man must be 16 years of age but not yet 17, and must have a minimum of Grade 8 education.

For an interesting booklet with more information on the Soldier Apprentice Plan, write, phone or visit the Army Recruiting Centre nearest you. Do it now, training begins September 13th.

YOUR HYDRO Provides More Power for Ontario

The official opening, August 30th, of the Sir Adam Beck-Niagara Generating Station No. 2, by Her Royal Highness The Duchess of Kent is in a large measure a tribute to the achievements of those who planned and constructed this great development . . . The Engineers, the Men of Labor, the Suppliers and the Contractors, who contributed to, and made possible the putting of this giant generating station into operation, well ahead of schedule.

By December 31 next, 6 units of this plant, with an installed capacity of 600,000 horsepower, will be in operation. Ultimate 16-unit capacity, including pumped storage, will be 1,828,000 horsepower.

Measured in horsepower the output of this plant is impressive. Measured in human benefits it is even more significant. New power for homes, for industrial plants, for business and for farms . . . more power for progress and better living for the people of Ontario.

RIVER VALLEY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Regular meeting, Thursday, September 2nd at 2 p.m. at home of Mrs. Percy Utman Topic, "Community Activities and Public Relations." Conveners, Mrs. Gerald Brooks and Mrs. Will. Ashby.

Mount Pleasant

Delegate At Convention

Mrs. John Mulheron, of Rawdon United Church Circuit is a delegate to part of the sessions of the World Council of Churches at their Second World Assembly at North Western University, Evanston, Illinois.

Mrs. Mulheron will leave Belleville by train on Tuesday evening, August 24th and attend the sessions until the closing ceremonies on August 31st.

Mrs. Mulheron's brother, Rev. Dr. John Marsh, M.A., Ph.D., Mansfield College, Oxford, England, is presenting special lectures at this assembly. Following the sessions, Dr. Marsh has an assignment of lectures in New Jersey and then he plans to visit at the home of his sister, Fifth Concession of Rawdon, arriving in Stirling on September 8th. It is understood that Professor Marsh will be guest minister on Rawdon Circuit on Sunday, September 12th at the three appointments.

Vacation School At Mount Pleasant

Rawdon Circuit Sunday Schools are sponsoring a Vacation School at Mt. Pleasant United Church and Hall each forenoon this week. Rev. W. G. Fletcher, B.A., conducts a fifteen minute devotional period each morning and the group then divide into special classes. Sixty-eight children were in attendance on Monday and a large number of mothers assisted with the work.

Mr. Ray Sharp oversees craft work for Intermediates and Juniors; Miss Betty McConnell conducts a music lesson for each class. Mrs. Smith will convene the balance of the Sessions in the absence of Mrs. Mulheron, who will be attending the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill. Mrs. Carleton Potts is in charge of related handwork for Intermediates.

We understand that nineteen children registered Monday morning in the Kindergarten Class with Mrs. Raymond McConnell as convener; seventeen children in the Primary Class, with Mrs. John Mulheron convener and Mrs. Herbert Smith, assistant; twenty two children in the Junior class with Mrs. Kenneth Weaver as convener, and ten children in the Intermediate class with Mr. Ed. Richardson as convener. A total of sixty-eight for Monday, which is an increase of thirteen over last year's first day attendance.

On Friday at 8.30 p.m. a full programme will be presented and all are welcome to attend. The various departments of work will be on display at the Church Hall. The Pastor will present some slides of Dr. Lauback's work in India and a silver collection will be taken for this great Missionary cause.

Miss Ina Scott is secretary of the school with Miss Marilyn McConnell as assistant.

Misses Grace and Marie Stone, of Holloway, are spending a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White and family.

Rylstone

Another "Wildwood Concert" took place at Mr. Bourne's Picnic Grounds, Crowe River Bridge, on Sunday, August 23rd, with a still larger crowd than any previous concert. The theme song, "Church in the Wildwood," and the welcoming words from Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, Institute President, and Mr. Bourne, were the opening exercises for the following programme:

Selections by the Campbellford Citizens' Band; piano accordion solo, "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," by Gerald Taylor, of Wellman's Corners; encore, "Nearer My God To Thee," by Don Chambers and Leslie Billen, Burnbrae; encore, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus," selections by Campbellford Citizens' Band and God Save The Queen.

Much thanks is due to the Turnabout Elevators Company of Toronto, who have so graciously loaned their loud speaker equipment, which helps so much in making the concerts a success.

Next Sunday is expected to be the final concert of the season, and we hope to have a large crowd again.

Enjoy Three Months Shooting Under New Gov't Regulations

The government has decided to extend the duck-hunting season in most parts of central and western Canada this year to chase the lingering birds out of northern areas before the winter freeze-up.

New regulations, outlining the 1954 shooting dates along with a number of other changes, were announced by the resource department today. For the most part, with the exception of season dates, they follow the 1953 rules.

Under the new regulations an area of several thousand square miles, which includes this district, has been transferred from the southern to the central district. The switch was made at the request of the Ontario department of lands and forests for conservation reasons.

Power boats have been banned from the marshland sport for some time. But under the new regulations a hunter can use a power boat if he detaches the motor from the craft when he hits the hunting area. The ban on power boats is lifted completely in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon.

Lengthening of seasons, which may bring greater enjoyment to the duck hunter this fall, will apply to Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Some zoning changes have been made in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan and B.C., and the department suggested interested hunters should scrutinize the new regulations which have been shipped out to post offices, other government buildings and enforcement buildings across the country for bulletin-board posting.

Here are the duck season dates for Ontario.

In the northern district, formerly called the Hudson area, the season for ducks, geese, rails, coots, gallinules, woodcock and Wilson's snipe will extend from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15. Last year it ended on Nov. 15.

In the central district, formerly called the northern area, the season runs from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15, compared to Sept. 15-Nov. 17 last year.

In the southern area it will run from Oct. 2 to Dec. 15, compared to Oct. 3-Dec. 1 a year ago. In Essex county, the open season for geese will be Oct. 2-Dec. 31 inclusive, a month longer than the Nov. 2-Dec. 31 last year.

The southern district comprises: Those parts of Muskoka district and Simcoe county lying west of Highway 69; in Ontario county, those parts of the townships of Rama, Mara, Thorah, Brock and Reach, lying west of Highway 69 and 12, and the townships of Scott, Uxbridge, Pickering, Whitby, and East Whitby; in Durham county, the townships of Darlington and Clarke; and the counties of Brant, Bruce, Dufferin, Elgin, Essex, Grey, Haldimand, Halton, Huron, Kent, Lambton, Lincoln, Middlesex, Norfolk, Oxford, Peel, Perth, Waterloo, Welland, Wellington, Wentworth and York.

The central district comprises the rest of the province.

Plan Large Display Armed Forces At C.N.E. This Year

In line with the overall theme of this year's Canadian National Exhibition — "Canada On The March" — the Armed Forces display for 1954 will illustrate the growth of this country's fighting manpower and battle equipment. In addition, the display will serve to show the close support and teamwork between the three services.

A chain of exhibits will be set up to the west of the Grandstand, behind the Press Building, to show the Canadian contribution to NATO, and the idea and purpose of that organization in the defence of the Western World.

Of the three services themselves, the Navy will lead the others in interest with the unveiling of a 38-foot scale model of the new all-Canadian anti-submarine escort ship. Of revolutionary design, these ships are the pride of the Canadian Navy. The first one will come into commission in 1955. The Navy will also display an attack table that will give the public a clear picture of how an attack on an enemy submarine is carried out, aided by the latest Asdic and destructive devices.

The Army will have a display built around the soldier-apprentice plan, with a description of the trades training given by the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers. They will show two apprentices mending electronic and communications equipment.

The RCAF will allow the public to look at one of the world's best night fighters, the CF-100, and will have a cutaway of the famous Orenda jet engine power plant. A T-34 jet trainer will also be on display.

Across the north-south road that parallels this area, the Army will give periodic demonstrations of the raising and rigging of communications poles. The Air Force, at the same time, will demonstrate landing and survival in the Arctic.

In addition to these stationary exhibits, the services will be represented in the Grandstand Show by the Army Despatch Rider Team and a Naval gunnery team.

Jobs Scarce, Standards High, So Pupils Returning To School

Hundreds of Ontario students who had decided to leave school this year to start work will instead return to classes in September — because of the job lack and higher standards demanded by employers.

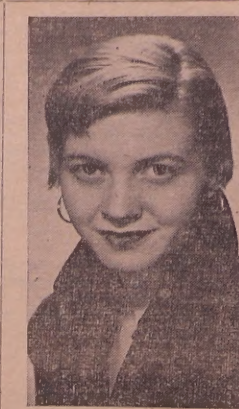

The students found holiday work scarce, the Unemployment Insurance Commission reports, and they decided to go back for junior or senior matriculation. Not only were permanent prospects poor for them, but they found the summer jobs in camps and lodges had all gone to local adult unemployed.

Unemployment totals for Ontario in June reached 95,253, up 97 per cent from June last year.

Fruit picking and harvest jobs, which normally go to high school and university students were taken by the adult unemployed in the different localities, says the Commission.

In the August report the Commission says: "The need for help was not as critical in agriculture as for some years. Many local offices were able to meet the immediate need from local sources, especially in areas where industrial activity had been curtailed."

"This is especially true in the Niagara district where the early fruit has been picked very generally by residents of Hamilton and St. Catharines."

CORINNE CONLEY

Blonde, blue-eyed Corinne Conley may only weigh 112 pounds but her accomplishments are many. As an actress, commentator, and singer, the twenty-five year old artist has had leading roles in many U.S. and Canadian theatre productions, including "Voice of the Turtle," "Present Laughter," "Taming of the Shrew," "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Macbeth," and "She Stoops to Conquer." She has appeared in many dramas and variety shows on both CBC television and radio, has done extensive repertory work and appeared as "Rosie" in Gratien Gelinas' film of "Ti-Coq."

NEWS-ARGUS ADS. PAY

The number of U.S. citizens allowed across the border for temporary employment this year has been "drastically reduced," according to immigration authorities.

"We did not want any U.S. citizens coming up to take jobs of any kind when there were Canadians available," said one official.

Died In Trenton

After an illness lasting one month, James L. Potts, R.R. 6, Trenton, passed away Tuesday, August 24th in the Trenton Memorial Hospital, at the age of 74 years.

Born in Rawdon Township, Mr. Potts was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Potts. He was a lifelong resident of the Trenton area. He is survived by his wife, Annie Nancarrow; one sister, Mrs. William Nancarrow (Alice), R.R. 6, Trenton; and one brother-in-law, Thomas Scott, of Toronto.

Mr. Potts was a retired farmer. He was a member of North Trenton United Church.

The late Mr. Potts rested at the Weaver Funeral Home, Trenton, for service Friday, August 27th at 3 p.m., with Mr. Hugh Rose, pastor of the North Trenton Church officiating. Interment took place in Mount Evergreen Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Sam Potts, James Nancarrow, Henry Dwire, Walter Young, Fred Higgins and Fred Bird.

Fatigue Is Danger Signal

If you seem to tire too easily, or feel "all in" for no clear reason, or sometimes wake up more tired than when you went to bed — you are in good company, says the Reader's Digest. Most of us, at times, feel the same sort of puzzling fatigue.

Its cause, experts agree, is a protective reaction against stress, a warning that strains upon our bodies, minds or emotions are approaching a dangerous level. Nature's red lights, in other words.

Hard work, says the article, makes us tired by using up reserves of oxygen and blood sugar — fuel elements which are burned rapidly by exertion. But before hard work reduces our fuel reserves to the danger point, various "lifesaving discomforts" force us to slow down. Muscle ache. We get a "stitch" around the heart. Lungs beg painfully for a chance to catch up.

Mental work makes us physically tired because the brain, too, when active, requires lots of the blood-sugar and oxygen fuels. In brain-fag, "the red lights of physical fatigue are flashed on so that fuel can be shunted toward the endangered brain."

Chronic tiredness may be a sign of physical disease, the Digest cautions. In sickness, the fatigue mechanism discourages unnecessary exertion and channels all energies into fighting the disease.

Frequent snacks can ward off fatigue. On the other hand, dieting can cause persistent tiredness through the too-rapid reduction of sugar and other carbohydrates. Also, susceptibility to fatigue may result from lack of consistent exercise—a common condition among desk workers.

You may wake up more tired than when you went to bed because you have been too cold or too warm during the night, or because of a deep-seated emotional conflict which sleep may fail to relieve.

Coffee, "pep pills," alcohol and smoking give lifts, but the Digest article warns that they postpone, rather than prevent fatigue. Such pickups can never replace rest and sleep, which are nature's true restorers.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Weed of The Week

BEDSTRAW — ONCE AN ORNAMENTAL NOW A FARM LAND PEST

Once imported as an ornamental or garden plant, Bedstraw (Rubiaceae) is now rated as a very persistent killer of desirable plant life, reports the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. With over 550 genus and 5,000 species, Bedstraw has become an often encountered weed in many parts of Ontario.

According to the officials of the Crops Branch the "Northern" species is by far the most common with White Bedstraw following closely on its heels. Originally a tropical plant only a few species have, fortunately, become established in Ontario. It is usually found on roadsides and in pasture areas.

The Northern Bedstraw is a woody plant, a native perennial, with square stems, linear, lance-shaped leaves, in whorls of four. This plant has compact panicles of small bright white flowers. The small seeds, greyish in colour are covered with fine hairs. It is very persistent and will take over, killing out other weeds and all vegetation.

It will not stand good cultivation but will reappear in hay fields after the second year, forcing farmers to plow up and conduct a short rotation. When found in hay, the cattle show a dislike for it as fodder. For small patches a soil sterilant is recommended but the repeated use of 2-4-D has cleaned our roadsides of this persistent plant. Look for a square stemmed plant and destroy it before it spreads or becomes established.

PRE-HARVEST KILLING OF POTATO VINES

With the advent of mechanical methods of harvesting potatoes, the general use of insecticides such as DDT, and organic fungicides which promote growth and delay maturity of potatoes, vine killing has become increasingly popular with potato growers. The reasons for killing potato vines prematurely are to help growers spread their harvest season to prevent secondary growth of tubers, the oversizing of tubers, and the development of late blight. Also, the killing of vigorous vines prevents the clogging of diggers and speeds harvesting operations.

The methods most generally used for killing potato vines at the present time, says N. M. Parks, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, are chemical sprays or dusts, or the use of mechanical shredders or beaters. Each of these methods has certain advantages and disadvantages depending upon circumstances. Until further research work has been done no one method can definitely be recommended as being superior in efficiency.

The chemicals now most frequently used for vine killing are the dinitros in spray form, either with or without activators, and also cyanamid as a dust. Other chemicals such as copper sulphate and common salt in spray form have proved effective, but certain hazards attend their use. Copper sulphate in the absence of lime and copper sulphate and common salt mixtures should be used with caution unless the spray machine is resistant to such corrosive materials.

Vine killers are sold under various trade names such as Dows 66 Improved; Sinox General; Adams Handy Killer; Green Cross Top Killer, etc.; all of which if used in accordance with directions on the container will effectively kill potato vines. Aero cyanamid special grade in dust form, applied when the plants are wet with dew or after rain, has proved very effective for potato vine killing or plant defoliation. It produces a gradual and complete kill of the foliage within a few days after application; giving much the same effect as a light frost, or natural maturity. With a gradual killing of the tops the danger of discoloration of tubers usually associated with a rapid killing of the vines is lessened.

Aero cyanamid contains 21 per cent nitrogen; therefore in one product it offers the two-fold advantage of a vine killer and fertilizer. The residual nitrogen will be available for the succeeding crop.

The pre-harvest killing of potato vines is a practice which is recommended and can be employed by most growers to advantage. While it must be recognized that killing vines prematurely will reduce total yields considerably, it usually increases the percentage of marketable potatoes. It improves the maturity, size and general quality of potatoes; all of which are so essential in supplying consumers with a quality product.

PICKLE POINTERS

The home economists of Canada Department of Agriculture suggest that the best time to make pickles is from mid-August to early September. And so they want to give homemakers some pickle pointers before they start to plan what pickles they are going to make and what they need to buy for them. Granted, pickles may not add much to our meals as far as food value is concerned but they do add new interest and flavor, and certainly the small amount of effort used in making them is well worth the satisfaction we gain from eating them. So now is the time for us to check our pickle-making supplies.

The first subject the home economists mentioned is spices. They do so because it may be that Mrs. Home-maker had some left over from last year that she plans to use. If such is the case it is important to be sure that they have a good strong aroma because spices lose their aroma and strength very easily and only fresh pungent spices can do a really good job. Any combination of spices may be used but caution is necessary because too much spice may give a bitter flavour and a dark colour. A home-maker can develop her own special recipes by selecting and blending spices which suit her own individual taste and using them in a basic recipe. But here again — she should be sure that they are fresh.

And now a bit about vinegar — for most pickles the home economists recommend the use of blended vinegar. It is a combination of two kinds of vinegar, usually cider and white, and the blended flavours are very pleasing. Many stores sell blended vinegar at pickling time, but if it is not available at your grocer's it can easily be made by mixing equal parts of the white and cider. Of course white vinegar is preferred when making light coloured pickles such as onions and cauliflower.

Sugar is used in nearly all pickles — if too much is added or if too much is added too quickly, the pickles will shrivel — so here again caution is necessary. As for salt, it used to be that when making pickles we had to be sure to use pure coarse salt rather than iodized salt. Ever since it became law in Canada that all free-running or regular table salt must be iodized — the home economists of the Consumer Section have been doing a great deal of work on the use of iodized and non-iodized salt in pickles. This work on the use of salt in pickles is now completed and the results show that either iodized or non-iodized salt may be used with equal success in pickles.

Homemade pickles add much to eating satisfaction but actually there is more to pickle making than that. It is a lot of fun making pickles. You can also get a great personal satisfaction out of making your own special pickles and having them right on the shelf ready to serve with certain foods. And think of how proud you can be of rows of jars of colourful pickles. By the way a jar of pickles makes a welcome gift at any time.

The home economists say that in pickling season they often have people inquiring whether you can make pickles in aluminum saucepans, certainly aluminum can be used and enamel or stainless steel are also good. But since vinegar and salt react with iron, copper or brass to cause discoloration should not be used.

The Consumer Section has a booklet "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" it has a lot of very good pickle recipes in it so if you do not have a copy write now to the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and ask for a free copy. But as well as the excellent recipes in the booklet the home economists have a small folder with additional pickle recipes entitled "Conserves, Pickles and Relishes." A free copy of this leaflet can be obtained by writing to the same address, the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Now to get back to the pickle pointers — some pickles must be sealed airtight, for instance tomato chili sauce, and sweet relishes. With these pickles they must be packed hot in sterilized jars and then completely sealed. Other pickles may be kept in clean crocks or jars. If kept in crocks the pickles should be well covered with a vinegar solution and a plate or board should be placed on top of the pickles as a weight to keep them under the solution.

The last point about pickle making has to do with the raw ingredients — the vegetables and fruits you use. The home economists want to stress the fact that the finished product can be only as good as the raw products from which it is made so choose firm, fresh vegetables and fruits for pickling. Be sure that they are not bruised. Choose vegetables and fruits that are well shaped. If you plan to make whole pickles. Be sure that they are not over mature. The final, but perhaps most important point, make your pickles as soon after buying your vegetables and fruits as possible. Not longer than 24 hours should elapse from picking to pickling.

WINTERING BEES

The life of the honey bee is comparatively short, being not more than two or three months during the summer but a little longer during the winter if in good condition and resting quietly on the combs. However, the long winters of northern areas will test their endurance to the limit.

The material aids for wintering, such as the food supply, protection from the weather, ventilation, etc., all contribute toward good wintering of the bee colony. But those aids are of little avail if the bees themselves are old or are not in good condition.

M. J. Rowland of the Experimental Station, Kapuskasing, Ontario, says that several types of wintering cases, insulating materials, hive coverings and other aids have been tested in the Station apiary. A number of colonies were wintered by each method for several winters in succession. Each spring, the individual colonies of every group varied widely in condition and numerical strength. Although all colonies of each group were given the same physical aids for winter, the individual colonies within each group would range from strong through medium grades of weak or dead.

Some methods of wintering gave a better average condition of all colonies than did other methods but there was always a wide variation between the individual colonies which made up each group. That difference could be attributed mainly to the colony condition in the autumn.

The best assurance of having the bees in good condition for wintering is a young queen which will continue egg laying well into the autumn and supply young bees. Other conditions required are: suitable hive ventilation to prevent moisture condensation during cool autumn weather, an ample supply of stores, including pollen, at all times after the surplus honey crop has been removed. The material preparations for winter should be completed well before the cold weather sets in.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Forest Protection

We have gone through another good week from the fire hazard point of view. No fires were reported for the week, as heavy thunder showers occurred in north and east parts of the District. The total rainfall for the week at the Tweed weather station was light with .19 inches recorded. Though we had considerable rain in the northern portion of the District, it must be remembered that conditions can change very quickly and one of the two most hazardous periods of the year is still ahead of us.

Ranger staff are engaged on construction projects and other inspection duties, while the fire danger remains in the low rating.

Fish and Wildlife

Many happy anglers have been observed during the past week because of improved fishing. One particularly who lost and found his wallet which contained his holiday savings. The recovery was made by his fishing partner, who when lifting his tackle from the water, was startled to see a purse attached to his hook. A search was made of pockets and his friend discovered that his purse was missing. Conservation Officer Bob Davison, of Flinton, during the course of a patrol met these two anglers shortly after the event and the wet purse was exhibited as evidence.

Rangers and Conservation Officers are of the opinion that there is an increase in the deer herd, as more fawns than usual have been observed.

Conservation Officer Fred MacDonald says that if you know where to go and how, it is very easy to obtain your limit of yellow pickerel from the Bay of Quinte waters. Officer Bruce Saunderson says this also applies to black bass in Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence.

Research Featured
The Belleville Fair Exhibit of the Department of Lands and Forests featured the place of research in the wise use of renewable resources. Lighted pictures giving the illusion of depth or "3-D" illustrated such problems as the control of white pine blister rust, methods of logging that will encourage the reproduction of yellow birch and aging fish by reading scale markings. Officials of the Department of Lands and Forests are confident that with continued research and the application of the knowledge so gained increased production of better quality timber, fish and wildlife, will result.

Reforestation, a very important part of the work of the Department, received attention in a display of small trees known as "Nursery Stock" and numerous samples of tree seeds. The nursery stock included such well known trees as white pine, red pine, Jack pine, white spruce and Scotch pine. Trees of this age may be obtained from the Department at a rate of 1.0c to 1.4c per tree depending on the species; only land owners with sufficient land and planning to reforest are eligible.

One portion of the exhibit covered a section of fish and wildlife, two raccoons and a pair of golden pheasants being shown. An interesting group of plastic fish took the interest of the angler, these fish made in the Toronto Museum are a fine sample of the work of an artist conforming to the exact shapes of the various species used as samples with colouring identical with living specimens.

Forest Protection that vital part of any management plan did not receive the usual prominence, this phase of the Department's work being brought to the attention of the public by a large picture above the caption "Only you can prevent forest fires." The small size of this part of the display is not indicative of the importance of the subject "Forest Protection."

PICTON FAIR IN FULL SWING

Prince Edward County Fair at Picton, is in full swing this week. Opening on Wednesday, it will continue until midnight Saturday. This is the first Class "B" Fair at Picton and the entries in all classes live up to this high standard.

Providing fun for all the family is the huge Bernard & Barry midway brought to Picton in 20 railway cars.

Wednesday's features included an O.B.A. ball game between Picton and Port Hope, Junior Farmer competitions, pet parade, horse show and western stage show at night.

Horse races are scheduled for Thursday Friday and Saturday afternoon. Canadian Congress of Darts Devils present the grandstand performance Thursday and Friday nights with spectacular precision driving and stunts. In one, a new car is shot 80 feet from a cannon. Saturday night, a stage show is being produced by the Kiwanis Club.

An agricultural centre, designed also as an arena and community centre, is being erected on the grounds. As it is not completed, a huge tent houses the overflow of horses from the horse barn.

It is expected many from this area will go to Picton to enjoy the four-day County Fair, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

VEHICLE CONDITION

During 1953 in Ontario, there were 2,464 vehicles involved in accidents or collisions in which defective steering, brakes or other equipment was reported. Of these, there were 482 in which punctures or blow-outs were contributing factors. In these groups, 56 vehicles were involved in fatal accidents and 684 involved in accidents which resulted in personal injury.

Maintaining a properly equipped and properly functioning vehicle is within the power of all who drive.

Traffic safety has many facets and requirements, not the least of which is a reliable vehicle and efficient equipment.

Section 20(a) of the Highway Traffic Act reads: No person shall drive or operate or permit the driving or operation upon a highway of a vehicle that is in such dangerous or unsafe condition as to endanger the driver or operator or any occupant thereof or any person upon the highway.

Miss Grace Heasman played quiet music and Mrs. Holland read an article from the Missionary Monthly concerning the World Council of Churches. This was followed by the Council Prayer in unison.

Mrs. Jack Bush gave a reading, "It Isn't the Church, It's You." A letter in the Missionary Monthly from Miss Mary McDougall, our Missionary for prayer, was read by Mrs. Gerald Brooks. The Scripture Lesson, Psalm 100, was read in unison.

Mrs. Clifford Lansing gave a splendid paper on "Success." In Christianity we must go a little beyond what is demanded if we would know the joy of Jesus Christ. Real success is not easy to achieve and very few of us ever arrive at the ultimate goal. Happiness is to be gathered in the gains and enjoyed every day; it will not keep; it cannot be accumulated; nor need we go into remote places to gather it, since it has rained down from Heaven at our very doors. Happiness is a habit — a by-product of right thinking and living.

Miss Joanne Heasman sang a solo, "Rejoice, the Lord is King," accompanied by Miss Grace Heasman. Mrs. Alex Bush presented the 6th chapter of the study book, "Modern Miracles." For the last 50 years the Christian Church in Africa has had the greatest mass growth of any church in all the world. Mrs. Roy Bush continued with the Bible Study on the life and teaching of Paul.

The meeting closed with the benediction and all enjoyed a lunch of sandwiches and cake and the cup that cheers.

Mrs. Jack Bush expressed thanks to the hostess for the use of her home, to the programme convener and the lunch committee.

Traffic Fatalities Fewer In July

Traffic fatalities during the month of July, at 105, were 18 fewer than in the same month last year, according to preliminary reports. (July 1953, 123).

For the first seven months the number of traffic deaths now stands at 517 as against 526 in 1953. Improvement has been shown in April, May and July.

There were 442 passengers, 37 drivers, 24 pedestrians, one motorcycle driver and one cyclist fatally injured during July this year.

Passengers suffered most in collisions between vehicles, in which 29 lost their lives. Nine were killed in vehicles which left the road or hit fixed objects, two at railroad crossings, one on a motor-cycle and a child fell from a moving vehicle and was killed. There were 18 drivers killed in each of the two accident types: collisions between vehicles and out-of-control or fixed object accidents. One driver lost his life when he drove through a barricade and into the side of a train.

Of the 24 pedestrians fatally injured, 10 were under ten years of age and 7 were over 60. The single cyclist victim was 11 years of age.

The improvement over last year was in the number of passenger victims. As against this year's total of 442, July 1953 recorded 67 fatalities.

Lightning Destroys Warkworth Barn

Lightning which struck at the height of a heavy downpour of rain about 7.30 a.m. Tuesday, destroyed a huge L-shaped barn belonging to William Wilson, R.R. 1, Dartford.

Lost in the ensuing blaze were more than 2,000 bales of hay, consisting of this year's crop and part of last year's, 28 pigs weighing about 100 pounds each, five of which were to be taken to market the next day, a milking machine and a cream separator.

Barn Hit During Storm

A severe electrical storm passed over this district about 7.30 a.m. Tuesday and disrupted the hydro service for about one half hour.

During the storm the barn of Lloyd Jenkins on the 8th Line of Rawdon was struck but no material damage was done. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins were milking at the time and several of the cows were knocked to their knees from the shock.

At the end of 1953, according to official figures, there were 1,053,700 horses on Canadian farms.

During 1952 a Douglas fir felled on Vancouver Island was found to be 1,092 years old.

The average Canadian worker loses 9½ days every year through sickness and accidents.

Canadians as a whole spend close to $50,000,000 on dental bills, in the course of a year.

In 1950 there were 20,000 living Canadians more than 90 years of age.
